Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you and your spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan, as well as the application of advance premium tax credits and eligibility for cost-sharing reductions, was effective February 1, 2018?

Procedural History

On October 28, 2017, NY State of Health (NYSOH) issued a renewal notice, stating that you and your spouse qualified for an Essential Plan, effective January 1, 2018, and that you and your spouse no longer qualified for advance premium tax credits (APTC) as of December 31, 2017. The notice further stated that you had to choose a plan between November 16, 2017 and December 15, 2017 and that your and your spouse's coverage would not begin until you chose a plan.

On November 17, 2017, NYSDOH issued a disenrollment notice, stating that your and your spouse's coverage in your qualified health plan would terminate on December 31, 2017. The notice further stated that you needed to log in to your account and that your and your spouse's coverage would not begin until you chose a plan.

No updates were made to your account by December 15, 2017.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On December 26, 2017, NYSOH received your updated application for financial assistance with health insurance. That same day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared regarding that application, stating that you and your spouse were eligible for up to $951.00 per month in APTC, as well as cost-sharing reductions, effective February 1, 2018. You also enrolled you and your spouse into a qualified health plan.

Also on December 26, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed insofar as your and your spouse's eligibility for financial assistance and enrollment in a qualified health plan was effective as of February 1, 2018 and not January 1, 2018.

On December 27, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility redetermination notice, based on the December 26, 2017 application, stating that you and your spouse were eligible to receive up to $951.00 per month in APTC and, if you selected a silver-level qualified health plan, for cost-sharing reductions. This eligibility was effective February 1, 2018.

On December 27, 2017, NYSOH issued an enrollment confirmation notice, based on a plan selection made December 26, 2017, stating that you and your spouse were enrolled in a qualified health plan with a monthly premium responsibility of $267.30, after your APTC of $951.00 was applied, effective February 1, 2018.

On March 1, 2018, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) Your NYSOH account indicates that you receive notices from NYSOH by regular mail.
- 2) You testified that you did not receive the October 28, 2017 renewal notice or the November 17, 2017 disenrollment notice from NYSOH telling you, in part, that you needed to pick a plan and that your and your spouse's coverage would not begin until you chose a plan.
- 3) No notices sent to you at the address listed on your NYSOH account have been returned as undeliverable.
- 4) You testified that you did not know you needed to renew your application until the end of December.

- 5) The record reflects that you updated the information in your NYSOH account on December 26, 2017. That day you also enrolled into a qualified health plan.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Annual Eligibility Redetermination

Generally, NYSOH must conduct annual eligibility redeterminations for qualified individuals who are seeking financial assistance through insurance affordability programs for the upcoming year, such as tax credits and cost-sharing reductions, Medicaid, or Child Health Plus. In such cases, NYSOH is required to request that the qualified individual provide updated income and family size information for use in an eligibility redetermination for the upcoming year (see 45 CFR § 155.335(a) and (b)).

NYSOH must send an annual renewal notice that contains the information by which NYSOH will use to redetermine a qualified individual's projected eligibility for that year (45 CFR § 155.335(c)(3)). If a qualified individual does not respond to the notice after a 30-day period, NYSOH must redetermine that individual's eligibility using the information and projected eligibility provided in the annual renewal notice (45 CFR § 155.335(g), (h)). NYSOH must ensure this redetermination is effective on the first day of the coverage year or in accordance with the rules specified in 45 CFR § 155.330(f) regarding effective dates, whichever is later (45 CFR § 155.335(i)). The rules specified in 45 CFR § 155.330(f) are not pertinent here.

Redetermination During a Benefit Year

When an eligibility redetermination results in a change in the amount of APTC for a part of the benefit year, NYSOH must recalculate the amount of APTC in such a manner as to account for any advance payments already made (or not made) on behalf of the tax filer, such that the recalculated advance payment amount is projected to result in total advance payments for the benefit year that correspond to the tax filer's total projected premium tax credit for the overall benefit year (45 CFR § 155.330(g)).

Any change resulting from redeterminations during a benefit year should be made effective the first day of the month following the date of the notice of redetermination, except that redeterminations resulting from changes made after a date specified by the state, which can be no earlier than the 15th of the month, may not be made effective until the first day of the month after the month following the date of the notice of redetermination. (45 CFR § 155.330(f)(1) and (2)). New York has specified that changes made after the 15th of a given month will take effect the month after the following month.

End of Tax Year Reconciliation

At the end of a tax year, a person who elects to take APTC to help pay for the cost of an insurance premium must file a tax return to reconcile any differences between the amount of income the person reported to NYSOH and their actual gross income for that year. A person who received less tax credit than her maximum entitlement, based on gross income, may receive an income tax refund, or owe less in taxes. A person who received more tax credit than his maximum entitlement, based on gross income, will owe the excess as an additional income tax liability (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you and your spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan, as well as the application of advance premium tax credits and eligibility for cost-sharing reductions, was effective February 1, 2018.

NYSOH must redetermine a qualified individual's eligibility for health insurance and financial assistance to help pay for that health insurance annually. NYSOH must issue a renewal notice that contains the individual's projected eligibility. If an individual does not respond to this notice, NYSOH must issue an eligibility determination for the upcoming coverage year based on the information contained in the renewal notice.

On October 28, 2017, NYSOH issued an annual renewal notice in your case. That notice stated that you and your spouse qualified for an Essential Plan, effective January 1, 2018, and that you and your spouse no longer qualified for APTC as of December 31, 2017. The notice further stated that you had to choose a plan between November 16, 2017 and December 15, 2017 and that you and your spouse's coverage would not begin until you chose a plan.

Because there was no timely response to this notice, your and your spouse's eligibility for financial assistance and enrollment in a qualified health plan was terminated effective December 31, 2017.

You testified that you did not receive any notice from NYSOH telling you that you needed to update the information in your NYSOH account. You testified, and your NYSOH account confirms, that you elected to receive notifications by regular mail. However, there is no evidence in the record that any of the notices that were sent to your mailing address were returned as undeliverable.

Therefore, the record reflects that NYSOH properly notified you of your annual renewal and that information in your NYSOH account needed to be updated in order to ensure your and your spouse's financial assistance with health insurance would continue.

The record shows that on December 26, 2017 you updated the information in your NYSOH account and submitted a request to enroll in a qualified health plan.

When an individual changes information in their application after the 15th of any month, NYSOH will make the redetermination that results from the change effective the first day of the second following month. Additionally, the date on which a qualified health plan can take effect depends on the day a person selects the plan for enrollment. A plan that is selected after the fifteenth day of a month goes into effect on the first day of the second following month.

Therefore, NYSOH's December 27, 2017 eligibility redetermination notice and enrollment confirmation notice are AFFIRMED because they properly began your and your spouse's enrollment in your qualified health plan, as well as your APTC and eligibility for cost-sharing reductions, on February 1, 2018.
