Over 200,000 New Yorkers have benefitted from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage since March 2021 thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have led to:

- Record enrollment levels in Qualified Health Plans;
- A smooth transition for consumers moving from public coverage during the pandemic to affordable commercial coverage;
- A critical funding source for New York's State Innovation Waiver which is extending affordable coverage to over 1.4 million New Yorkers; and
- Historic low uninsured levels.

These enhanced tax credits are set to expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York. We see time and time again, New Yorkers take advantage of initiatives that lower the cost of health coverage.

Over 200,000 New Yorkers have benefitted from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage since March 2021 thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have led to:

- Record enrollment levels in Qualified Health Plans;
- A smooth transition for consumers moving from public coverage during the pandemic to affordable commercial coverage;
- A critical funding source for New York's State Innovation Waiver which is extending affordable coverage to over 1.4 million New Yorkers; and
- Historic low uninsured levels.

These enhanced tax credits are set to expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York. We see time and time again, New Yorkers take advantage of initiatives that lower the cost of health coverage.
