

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 2:

6,900

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

78,000

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$115

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $115 for individuals and $230 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

36%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 3:

7,200

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

63,700

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$94

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $94 for individuals and $188 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

23%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 4:

6,500

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

67,000

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$110

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $110 for individuals and $220 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

33%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible
consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 5:

4,000

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

113,700

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$124

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $124 for individuals and $248 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

56%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 6:

5,900

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

163,600

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$110

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $110 for individuals and $220 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

40%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 8:

4,400

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

97,700

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$119

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $119 for individuals and $238 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

50%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 9:

7,100

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

123,800

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$110

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $110 for individuals and $220 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

41%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible
consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 10:

7,300

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

79,200

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$85

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $85 for individuals and $170 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

25%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 12:

5,100

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

24,200

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$80

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $80 for individuals and $160 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

19%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 13:

4,000

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

91,500

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$118

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $118 for individuals and $236 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

47%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 15:

2,500

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

104,400

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$133

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $133 for individuals and $266 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

68%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible
consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 16:

4,800

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

61,300

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$113

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $113 for individuals and $226 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

37%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

Congressional District 18

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 18:

6,700

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

42,500

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$107

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $107 for individuals and $214 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

34%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 19:

5,600

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

37,400

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$122

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $122 for individuals and $244 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

31%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

Congressional District 20

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 20:

4,000

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

32,800

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$123

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $123 for individuals and $246 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

38%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

Congressional District 22

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 22:

4,000

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

37,100

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$131

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $131 for individuals and $262 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

44%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP:

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible
consumers in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

Congressional District 25

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 25:

5,200

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

41,300

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$122

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $122 for individuals and $244 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

41%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

140,000

Number of enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits in QHP.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible consumers in 2026.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.

Congressional District 26

FACT SHEET

Data as of January 2025

Over 6.7 million New Yorkers are enrolled in coverage through NY State of Health Marketplace. Currently, there are 1.6 million Essential Plan enrollees and 140,000 enrollees in Qualified Health Plans benefitting from access to affordable Marketplace health insurance coverage, thanks to enhanced tax credits made available under the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARPA)/Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). These enhanced tax credits have:

- Made private coverage more affordable for individuals who might otherwise go without coverage.
- Stabilized finances for working families and individuals employed in elder and child care, retail, manufacturing, and other small businesses across the state.
- Led to historically low uninsured levels, reducing uncompensated

In Congressional District 26:

3,100

Number of Qualified Health Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

40,000

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$134

If enhanced tax credits expire, average monthly premiums will increase $134 for individuals and $268 for couples in the 2026 plan year.

40%

The percentage by which premiums will increase for tax credit eligible-consumers in the 2026 plan year if enhanced tax credits expire.

These enhanced tax credits will expire at the end of 2025 if Congress doesn't take action.

An extension of the enhanced tax credits is essential to keeping Marketplace health insurance coverage affordable in New York and preserving these gains for New Yorkers.

IN NEW YORK STATE

1.6 million

Number of Essential Plan enrollees benefitting from enhanced tax credits.

$114

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for individuals, from $300 to $414 in 2026.

140,000

Number of enrollees
benefitting from enhanced
tax credits in QHP:

$228

Average monthly amount premiums will increase for couples, from $600 to $828 in 2026.

38%

Percent by which premiums will increase for tax credit-eligible
consumers in 2026.

As a whole, New York can expect to see significant increases in the uninsured rate if the enhanced financial assistance expires.