

Ina Ferguson-Downing
Citizen Action of Western New York

I can see how important that these exchanges will drive health care costs down; it will healthy competition for the private and non-for-profit organizations. As a nurse aide I seen patients become sicker, because they could not afford their medications.