Dear [REDACTED],

On February 3, 2015, the Marketplace issued an eligibility determination that found your spouse was eligible to receive up to $250.00 per month in advance premium tax credits, effective March 1, 2015.

On March 24, 2015, you called the New York State of Health's Appeals Unit to withdraw your appeal, which you had requested earlier that day. A Hearing Officer from the Marketplace's Appeals Unit received your call and placed you under oath.

While under oath, you identified yourself and stated that you had accepted your current eligibility status and were no longer interested in pursuing any appeal of the February 3, 2015 eligibility determination.

You therefore withdrew your appeal on the record. Accordingly, we are dismissing your appeal, pursuant to 45 CFR § 155.530(a)(1).

How does this Dismissal Affect Your Eligibility?

The eligibility determination issued on February 3, 2015 will not be reviewed by the Appeals Unit. Your withdrawal will not affect any determination issued after the February 3, 2015 eligibility determination.

If You Think Your Appeal Should Not Be Dismissed

If you think your appeal should not be dismissed, you can ask us to vacate (cancel) this dismissal. You must ask us in writing within 30 days after the date on this notice.

The Marketplace's Appeals Unit will review your request. If your request is approved, another hearing will be scheduled for you. If your request is denied, the Marketplace will tell you in writing.

If you do not respond to this notice within 30 days, your appeal will remain dismissed, and the Marketplace will take no further action on your appeal.
