Decision

Decision Date: April 19, 2017

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000014912

Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you and your son were not eligible for advance payments of the premium tax credit or cost-sharing reductions, effective February 1, 2017?

Procedural History

On January 17, 2017 NY State of Health (NYSOH) received your updated application for health insurance. That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared regarding the application, stating that you and your son were eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan.

Also on January 17, 2017, you contacted NYSOH's Account Review Unit and requested an appeal of that preliminary eligibility determination as you and your son were not eligible for any financial assistance with your health insurance.

On January 18, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice based on the information contained in the January 17, 2017 application, stating you and your son were eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost beginning February 1, 2017. It stated that you and your son do not qualify for an advance premium tax credit because your application states that the primary tax filers in your household are married but not filing taxes jointly. It also stated that you and your son do not qualify for cost-sharing reductions because you and your son are not eligible for advance premium tax credits.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On April 11, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you will be filing your 2017 income tax return with a tax filing status of head of household with a qualifying dependent.
- 2) You testified that you are currently married and that you do plan to legally divorce your spouse but you are unsure as to when this divorce will be complete.
- 3) You testified that you have not lived with your spouse for the last six years.
- 4) You testified that you have a son who is currently [REDACTED] old and that he lives with you for at least six months out of the year.
- 5) You testified, and your application states, that you will be claiming your son as a dependent on your 2017 tax return.
- 6) You testified that you pay all the cost of maintain your home.
- 7) You testified that your expected 2017 income is about $30,000. You further testified that you expect your son's 2017 income to be about $11,393.00.
- 8) You testified that your son is not currently a student.
- 9) Your application states that you live in [REDACTED].

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Advance Payments of the Premium Tax Credit

APTC is available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan (QHP) and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable poverty level (FPL) (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a QHP, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

Additionally, a tax filer who is married must file a joint return with his or her spouse to qualify for APTC (45 CFR §§ 155.305(f), 155.310(d); 26 CFR § 1.36B-2).

However, an individual will be treated as not married at the close of the taxable year if the individual

- 1) Is legally separated from his/her spouse under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance, or
- 2) Meets all the following criteria:
 - a. files a separate return from his/her spouse and maintains his/her household as the primary home for a qualifying child;
 - b. pays more than one half of the cost of keeping up his/her home for the tax year; and
 - c. does not have his/her spouse as a member of the household during the last 6 months of the tax year

(26 USC § 7703).

Qualifying Child

A qualifying child is defined as an individual who

- 1) Is the taxpayer's child,
- 2) Lives in the same home as the taxpayer for more than one half of the taxable year,
- 3) Has not reached the age of 19 as of the close of the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, or is a student and has not reached the age of 24 at the close of such calendar year,
- 4) Has not provided over one half of their own support for the taxable year, and

- 5) Has not filed a joint tax return with their spouse for the taxable year beginning in the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins.

(26 USC § 152 (c))

Cost-Sharing Reductions

Cost-sharing reductions (CSR) are available to a person who (1) is eligible to enroll in a QHP through NYSOH, (2) meets the requirements to receive APTC, (3) is expected to have an annual household income that does not exceed 250% of the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested, and (4) is enrolled in a silver-level QHP (45 CFR § 155.300(a), 45 CFR § 155.305(g)(1)).

Legal Analysis

The issue is whether NYSOH properly determined that you and your son are not eligible for advanced premium tax credits (APTC) and cost-sharing reductions.

In the eligibility determination notice issued on January 18, 2017, NYSOH denied APTC to you and your son because you indicated that you were married but did not plan to file a joint federal income tax return.

To qualify for APTC, a person who is married must either file taxes jointly with his or her spouse or qualify as “not married” at the close of the tax year.

According to the information in the record and your testimony at the hearing, you are still married to your spouse and have not obtained a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance. Also, you confirmed that you do not plan to file a joint federal income tax return with your spouse for the 2017 tax year.

There is an exception, as noted above, that allows a tax filer to be treated as “not married” at the close of a taxable year, making the tax filer eligible for APTC. If a tax filer can file head of household with a qualifying dependent, they can be considered “not married” for the purposes of obtaining APTC through NYSOH.

You testified during the hearing that: (1) you expect to claim your son as a dependent and that child’s primary home is with you, (2) you will pay more than one-half of the cost of keeping up your home for 2017, and (3) your spouse has not been a member of the household for at least 6 months and you expect that to remain the case for 2017.

However, in order you a child to be considered a qualifying dependent, one of the criteria is for the child to be under the age of 19 during the tax filing year.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

You testified that the child you expect to claim as a qualifying dependent turned 19 years old as of [REDACTED] and is not a full-time student. Therefore, the record does not support a finding that you are a head of household with a qualifying dependent for the 2017 tax year because your child is over the age of 19 years old. Since your child does not qualify as a qualifying dependent, you do not qualify to be treated as “not married”.

Therefore, NYSOH was correct when it found that you and your son were not eligible for APTC due to your tax filing status as stated in your application.

Cost-sharing reductions are available only to those who meet the requirements for APTC. Since you and your son did not qualify for APTC, NYSOH correctly found that you and your son were not eligible for cost-sharing reductions.

Since NYSOH correctly determined that you and your son are not eligible for APTC or cost-sharing reductions, the January 18, 2017 notice of eligibility determination is AFFIRMED.
