Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

Did NY State of Health properly determine that your spouse was eligible to receive up to $247.00 per month in advance payments of the premium tax credit, effective March 1, 2017?

Did NY State of Health properly determine that your spouse was eligible for cost-sharing reductions?

Did NY State of Health properly determine that your spouse was ineligible for the Essential Plan?

Procedural History

On August 11, 2016, you created your household's application for financial assistance with health insurance.

On August 12, 2016, NY State of Health (NYSOH) issued a notice of eligibility determination stating that your spouse was eligible for the Essential Plan, effective September 1, 2016.

On January 27, 2017, you updated your application for financial assistance, specifically, you updated the income listed in your application and indicated that you are pregnant. That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared stating that your spouse was eligible to receive up to $247.00 per month in advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) and eligible to receive cost-sharing reductions if he enrolled in a silver level qualified health plan, effective March 1, 2017.

Also on January 27, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the determination, insofar as your spouse was found eligible for APTC and cost-sharing reductions, and ineligible for the Essential Plan.

On January 28, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination, based on the January 27, 2017 application, stating that your spouse was eligible to receive up to $247.00 per month in APTC and eligible to receive cost-sharing reductions if he enrolled in a silver level qualified health plan for a limited time, effective March 1, 2017. That notice also stated that your spouse was not eligible for the Essential Plan because your household income was over the allowable income limits for that program. The notice further directed you to provide proof of your household's income by April 27, 2017 or the financial assistance your spouse was receiving may end.

On February 2, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination stating that your spouse was eligible for the Essential Plan for a limited time, as he had been granted Aid to Continue until a decision was made on your appeal, effective March 1, 2017.

On April 11, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. During the hearing French Interpreter # [REDACTED] interpreted. The record was developed during the hearing and held open for fourteen days to allow you the opportunity to submit proof of your spouse's income. On April 25, 2017, the Appeals Unit receive via fax copies of five of your spouse's paystubs. These documents were collectively marked as Appellant's Exhibit #1 and incorporated into the record. The record is now closed.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you are seeking for your spouse to be found eligible for the Essential Plan.
- 2) You testified that you expect to file your 2017 taxes with a tax filing status of married filing jointly.
- 3) You testified that you are currently pregnant and due in [REDACTED].
- 4) The record reflects that you currently have Medicaid through NYSOH.

- 5) The application that was submitted on January 27, 2017 listed annual household income of $35,200.00, consisting of $12,320.00 you earn from your employment and $22,880.00 your spouse earns from his employment.
- 6) You testified that your annual expected income for 2017 is $12,320.00.
- 7) You testified that you were not sure if the $22,880.00 listed on your application for spouse's income, represented your spouse's annual expected income, or if this was your combined annual household expected income.
- 8) On April 25, 2017 you submitted five of your spouse's paystubs; the first is for pay date January 13, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $452.05; the second is for pay date January 20, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $464.42; the third is for pay date January 27, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $361.42; the fourth is for pay date April 14, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $464.75; the fifth is for pay period April 10, 2017 through April 16, 2017, pay date April 21, 2017, for a gross pay amount of $405.57, and lists a year to date gross pay amount of $7,135.12.
- 9) You testified that your spouse will work 10 months during 2017, and will not be working in October 2017 or November 2017.
- 10) Your application states, and you confirmed, that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 11) Your application states, and you confirmed, that you and your spouse reside in [REDACTED]

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Household Composition

For purposes of advance premium tax credit (APTC) and cost-sharing reductions (CSR), the household size equals the number of individuals for whom the taxpayer is allowed a deduction under 26 USC § 151 for the taxable year, which typically includes: (1) the taxpayer, (2) his or her spouse, and (3) any claimed dependents (26 USC § 36B(d)(1)).

With regard to the Essential Plan, the household size is determined using the above methodology for individuals who file a tax return. (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 19-20, as approved January 2017; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

Advance Payments of Premium Tax Credit

Advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) are generally available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan (QHP) and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a QHP, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

The maximum amount of APTC that can be authorized equals:

- 1) the cost of the health insurance premium for the taxpayer's coverage family in the second lowest cost silver plan offered through NY State of Health in the county where the taxpayer resides minus

- 2) the taxpayer's expected contribution amount

(see 26 USC § 36B, 26 CFR § 1.36B-3).

The taxpayer's expected contribution amount is the amount that the taxpayer is expected to spend on health insurance premiums. The expected contribution for 2017 is set by federal law at 2.04% to 9.69% of household income (26 USC § 36B(b)(3)(A), 26 CFR § 1.36B-3T(g)(1), IRS Rev. Proc.2016-24).

In an analysis of APTC eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR §§ 155.300(a), 155.305(f)(1)(i)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two-person household (81 Fed. Reg. 4036.).

For annual household income in the range of at least 200% but less than 250% of the 2016 FPL, the expected contribution is between 8.21% and 6.43% of the household income (26 CFR § 1.36B-3T(g)(1), 45 CFR § 155.300(a), IRS Rev. Proc. 2016-24).

People who use the APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income (stated on NYSOH application) with their actual income (stated on their federal income tax return). Those who take less tax credit in advance than they claim on the tax return may get the rest of it as an income tax refund or have their tax bill reduced. Those who take more tax credit in advance than they can claim on their tax return will owe the difference as additional income taxes (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

Cost-Sharing Reductions

Cost-sharing reductions (CSR) are available to a person who (1) is eligible to enroll in a QHP through NYSOH, (2) meets the requirements to receive APTC, (3) is expected to have an annual household income that does not exceed 250% of the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested, and (4) is enrolled in a silver-level QHP (45 CFR § 155.300(a), 45 CFR § 155.305(g)(1)).

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two-person household (81 Fed. Reg. 4036.).

A person who has a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL has a $0.00 premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 21, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

A person who has a household income greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL has a $20.00 per month premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, as approved January 2016).

The Essential Plan is considered minimum essential coverage therefore, a person who is eligible for the Essential Plan is not eligible for any premium tax credit because they are eligible for minimum essential coverage through the individual market (see 26 CFR § 1.36B-2(c)(1), 26 USC § 5000A(f)(1)(C)).

Legal Analysis

The first issue is whether NYSOH properly determined that your spouse was eligible for an APTC of up to $247.00 per month.

The application that was submitted on January 27, 2017 listed an annual household income of $35,200.00 and the eligibility determination relied upon that information.

You testified that your annual expected income for 2017 is $12,320.00, which was indicated on your January 27, 2017 application.

You testified that you were not sure if the $22,880.00 listed as your spouse's annual expected income for 2017, was actually his annual expected income, or if this was your entire household's annual expected income for 2017.

You submitted paystubs from your spouse's employer. The most recent paystub represents your husband's pay for work performed through April 16, 2017, which represents 15 weeks. The gross year to date pay on that paystub is $7,540.69. This yields an average weekly wage of $502.71 per week ($7,540.69 divided by 15 weeks). You testified that your spouse will not work in the months of October 2017 and November 2017. Therefore, your spouse will work 44 weeks in 2017. This yields an annual expected income for 2017 of $22,119.24 ($502.71 multiplied by 44 weeks).

As this figure substantially comports with the information on the January 27, 2017, the annual expected household income of $35,200.00 listed on the application will not be adjusted.

You testified that you are currently pregnant and are due in [REDACTED]. You testified that you and your spouse expect to file your 2017 tax return as married filing jointly.

When calculating family size for APTC, cost-sharing reduction, and Essential Plan purposes, household size consists of the taxpayer, his or her spouse, and any claimed dependents. As you do not yet have any dependents, your spouse is in a two-person household.

You reside in [REDACTED] where the second lowest cost silver plan available for an individual through NYSOH costs $456.46 per month.

An annual income of $35,200.00 is 219.73% of the 2016 FPL for a two-person household. At 219.73% of the FPL, the expected contribution to the cost of the health insurance premium is 7.13% of income, or $209.21 per month.

The maximum amount of APTC that can be approved equals the cost of the second lowest cost silver plan available through NYSOH for an individual in your county ($456.46 per month) minus your expected contribution ($209.21 per month), which equals $247.25 per month. Therefore, rounding to the nearest dollar, NYSOH correctly determined your spouse to be eligible for up to $247.00 per month in APTC.

The second issue is whether your spouse was properly found eligible for cost-sharing reductions. Cost-sharing reductions are available to a person who has a household income no greater than 250% of the FPL. Since a household income of $35,200.00 is 219.73% of the applicable FPL, NYSOH correctly found your spouse to be eligible for cost sharing reductions.

The third issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your spouse was ineligible for the Essential Plan.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size. On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $16,020.00 for a two-person household. Since an annual household income of $35,200.00 is 219.73% of the 2016 FPL, NYSOH properly found your spouse to be ineligible for the Essential Plan.

Since the January 28, 2017 eligibility determination properly stated that, based on the information you provided, your spouse was eligible for up to $247.00 per month in APTC, eligible for cost-sharing reductions, and ineligible for the Essential Plan, it is correct and is AFFIRMED.
