Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that your spouse's enrollment in an Essential Plan was effective March 1, 2017?

Procedural History

On December 27, 2016, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that your spouse was eligible to share in an advanced payment of the premium tax credit in an amount of up to $218.00, effective February 1, 2017. That notice further stated that he must pick a plan.

Also on December 27, 2016, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming your children were enrolled in a Child Health Plus plan. That notice further stated that your spouse's health coverage would not begin until he picked a plan.

Also on December 27, 2016, NYSOH issued a notice stating that your spouse's current coverage in his Essential Plan would end effective January 31, 2017.

On February 2, 2017, you updated your spouse's application for health insurance. On that day, a preliminary eligibility determination was made finding your spouse eligible for the Essential Plan, effective March 1, 2017.

Also on February 2, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the start date of your spouse's enrollment in the Essential insofar as it did not begin February 1, 2017.

On February 3, 2017, NY State of Health (NYSOH) issued an eligibility determination notice stating that your spouse was eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan for a limited time, effective March 1, 2017.

Also on February 3, 2017, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice, based on your plan selection on January 31, 2017, stating that your spouse was enrolled in an Essential Plan, and that his plan would start March 1, 2017.

On May 8, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, you receive all your notices via electronic mail.
- 2) You testified that you did not receive any electronic alerts regarding any notice in your NYSOH account or any of the December 27, 2016 notices stating that your spouse's enrollment in the Essential Plan was going to end and that he needed to pick a plan.
- 3) You testified that you did not know that your spouse needed to update his account until January 2017 or February 2017 when the health plan refused to take your payment for health insurance.
- 4) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, you submitted an application to NYSOH for financial assistance on behalf of your spouse on February 2, 2017. You selected and enrolled him in an Essential Plan that day.
- 5) You testified that you are seeking coverage solely for your spouse for the month of February 2017. You are unsure if he has any unpaid medical expenses.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Essential Plan Effective Date

For individuals seeking enrollment in an Essential Plan, New York State has elected to follow the same rules that NYSOH uses in determining effective dates for individuals seeking enrollment in qualified health plans (NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(4)(c); New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 16, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

The effective date of coverage by an Essential Plan is determined by the date on which an applicant selects a plan for enrollment. For individuals who are eligible for enrollment, NYSOH must generally ensure that coverage is effective the first day of the following month for selections received by NYSOH from the first to the fifteenth of any month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(i); see also 42 CFR § 600.320). For selections received by NYSOH from the sixteenth to the last day of any month, NYSOH must ensure coverage is effective the first day of the second following month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(ii)).

Electronic Notices

Applicants may choose to receive notices and information from NYSOH either by electronic alerts or by regular mail. If the applicant elects to receive electronic notices, NYSOH must send an email or other electronic communication alerting the individual that a notice has been posted to the applicant's account (42 CFR § 600.330(e); 42 CFR § 435.918(b)(4)).

Additionally, if an electronic alert regarding a notice in an individual's NYSOH account fails, NYSOH must send out the notice by regular mail within three days of the failed alert (42 CFR § 435.918(b)(5)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your spouse's enrollment in the Essential Plan was effective March 1, 2017.

You testified, and the record indicates, that you submitted your spouse's NYSOH application on February 2, 2017. As a result, he was found eligible for the Essential Plan as of March 1, 2017 and enrolled into a plan that day.

Generally, the date on which enrollment in an Essential Plan can take effect depends on the day a person selects the plan for enrollment.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

However, you testified and the record reflects that you elected to receive alerts regarding notices from NYSOH electronically. You credibly testified that you did not receive any electronic alert regarding the notices that stated your spouse's Essential Plan was about to end or that he needed to pick a new health plan for coverage to begin. There is no evidence in your account showing that any email alert was sent to you regarding the need to renew your application, that any such electronic notice failed, or that the notice was later sent to you by regular mail.

Therefore, it is concluded that NYSOH did not give you the required notice that you needed to enroll your spouse in a health plan for coverage to start February 1, 2017.

You first selected your spouse's health plan through NYSOH for the upcoming coverage year on February 2, 2017 and, therefore, we must assume that the information you provided at that time is the information that would have been used had you been timely informed of the need to pick a health plan for your spouse, as stated in the December 27, 2016 notices.

Had you been informed to pick a plan and done so at that time, his eligibility for and enrollment in the Essential Plan would have begun on February 1, 2017.

Therefore, the February 3, 2017 eligibility determination and plan enrollment notices are MODIFIED to state that your spouse's eligibility for and enrollment in the Essential Plan was effective February 1, 2017.

Your case is RETURNED to NYSOH to effectuate this change and to notify you accordingly.
