Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

> Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you were eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 premium per month, effective April 1, 2017?
> Did NYSOH properly determine that you were not eligible for Medicaid?

Procedural History

On February 16, 2017, you submitted an application for financial assistance.

On February 17, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination stating that you were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 premium per month for a limited time, effective April 1, 2017. That notice also stated that you were not eligible for Medicaid because your income was over the allowable income limit for that programs. You were requested to provide income documentation by May 17, 2017 to finalize your eligibility for the Essential Plan.

Also on February 17, 2017, NYSOH issued an enrollment notice confirming your selection in an Essential Plan as of February 16, 2017. The notice stated that your Essential Plan coverage would begin effective April 1, 2017.

On February 21, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed insofar as you were seeking to be found eligible for Medicaid, rather than for the Essential Plan.

On March 27, 2016, NYSOH received (1) a monetary benefit determination letter issued to you by NYS Dept. of Labor on December 2, 2016, reflecting your weekly unemployment benefit rate of $430.00, and (2) four earnings statements issued to your spouse by his employer, [redacted], between March 3, 2017 and March 24, 2017.

On April 4, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility redetermination notice stating that you were eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 premium per month, without condition, effective May 1, 2017.

On May 31, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and remained open as the Hearing Officer directed you to provide as additional evidence to corroborate your testimony: (1) all earnings statements issued to spouse during the month of February 2017 and (2) a record of unemployment payments you received during the month of February 2017. The record was to be closed 15 days after the hearing date, or upon the receipt of the above referenced documents, whichever occurred earlier.

On June 7, 2017, you provided to the Appeals Unit by facsimile: (1) a claim history snapshot of all unemployment benefit payments made to you between December 19, 2016 and May 30, 2017, and (2) five earnings statements issued to your spouse by his employer, [redacted], between February 10, 2017 and March 10, 2017.

Accordingly, the record was closed on June 7, 2017.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

1) You testified, and your NYSOH account reflects, that you expect to file your 2017 taxes with a tax filing status of married filing jointly. You will claim your child as your sole dependent on that tax return.

2) You testified that you are seeking an appeal solely with respect to your eligibility.

3) The final application that was submitted on February 16, 2017 listed annual household income of $32,814.07, consisting of $21,634.07 your spouse anticipates earning from his employment with [redacted], [redacted], and $430.00 per week you anticipate receiving in unemployment benefits over a period of 26 weeks during 2017. You testified that these amounts were correct.

4) On March 27, 2017, your provided to NYSOH a UIB Monetary Benefit Determination letter issued by NYS Dept. of Labor, dated December 2, 2016, confirming your award of $430.00 per week in unemployment benefits.

5) On March 27, 2017, you provided to NYSOH four earnings statements issued to your spouse by his employer, [redacted], reflecting that he received (1) $451.06 on March 3, 2017, (2) $454.03 on March 10, 2017, (3) $439.67 on March 17, 2017, and (4) $452.38 on March 24, 2017.

6) Your application states that you did not anticipate taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.

7) You live in Queens County, New York.

8) On June 7, 2017, you provided to NYSOH (1) a UIB Weekly Benefit printout reflecting that you received (1) $430.00 on February 2, 2017, (2) $430.00 on February 7, 2017, (3) $430.00 on February 13, 2017, (4) $430.00 on February 21, 2017 and (5) $430.00 on February 28, 2017.

9) On June 7, 2017, you provided to NYSOH three additional earnings statements (not previously received by NYSOH) issued to your spouse by his employer, [redacted], reflecting that he received (1) $455.18 on February 10, 2017, (2) $453.53 on February 17, 2017 and (3) $452.71 on February 24, 2017.

10) You testified that you were seeking to be found eligible for Medicaid, rather than the Essential Plan, since you were previously enrolled in Medicaid, and could not afford the premium payments or associated co-pays.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $20,160.00 for a three-person household (81 Federal Register 4036).

A person who has a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL has a $0.00 premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 21, as approved January 2016; see https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html).

A person who has a household income greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL has a $20.00 per month premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, as approved January 2016).

Medicaid

Medicaid can be provided through NYSOH to adults who: (1) are age 19 or older and under age 65, (2) are not pregnant, (3) are not entitled to or enrolled for Medicare benefits under part A or B of title XVIII of the Act, (4) are not otherwise eligible for and enrolled for mandatory coverage under a State's Medicaid State plan in accordance with subpart B of this part, and (5) have a household modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) that is at or below 138% of the FPL for the applicable family size (42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)), NY Social Services Law § 366(1)(b)).

In an analysis of Medicaid eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL "for the applicable budget period used to determine an individual's eligibility" (42 CFR § 435.4). On the date of your application, that was the 2017 FPL, which is $20,420.00 for a three-person household (82 Fed. Reg. 8831).

Financial eligibility for Medicaid for applicants who are not currently receiving Medicaid benefits is based on current monthly household income and family size (42 CFR § 435.603(h)(1); State Plan Amendment (SPA) 13-0055-MM3, as approved March 19, 2014).

Legal Analysis

The first issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 premium per month, effective April 1, 2017.

The final application update that was submitted on February 16, 2017 listed an annual household income of $32,814.07, which consisted of $21,634.07 your spouse anticipates earning from his employment with [redacted], and $11,180.00 ($430.00 x 26 weeks) per week you anticipate receiving in unemployment benefits during 2017. The eligibility determination relied upon that information.

You are in a three-person household. You expect to file your 2017 income taxes as married filing jointly and will claim your child as your sole dependent on that tax return.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size. On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $20,060.00 for a three-person household. Since an annual household income of $32,814.07 is 162.79% of the 2016 FPL, NYSOH properly found you to be eligible for the Essential Plan.

The second issue is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were ineligible for Medicaid.

Medicaid can be provided through NYSOH to adults between the ages of 19 and 65 who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is at or below 138% of the FPL for the applicable family size. On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $20,420.00 for a three-person household. Since $32,814.07 is 160.70% of the 2017 FPL, NYSOH properly found you to be ineligible for Medicaid on an expected annual income basis, using the information provided in your application.

However, financial eligibility for Medicaid for applicants who are not currently receiving Medicaid benefits is based on current monthly household income and family size.

You submitted UIB Weekly Benefit printout reflecting that you received five unemployment benefit payments of $430.00 during the month of February 2017, for a total of $2,150.00. You also submitted three earning statements you spouse received from his employer during the month of February 2017, which reflected that he received at least $1,361.42. Accordingly, the credible evidence of record reflects that your household income during the month of February 2017 was at least $3,511.42.

To be eligible for Medicaid, you would need to meet the non-financial criteria and have an income no greater than 138% of the FPL, which is $2,348.00 per month. Since the documentation you provided shows that you household received at least $3,511.42 during February 2017, you do not qualify for Medicaid on the basis of monthly income as of the date of your application.

Since the February 17, 2017 eligibility determination notice properly stated that, based on the information you provided, you were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan and ineligible for Medicaid, it is correct and is AFFIRMED.
