Appeal Identification Number: AP000000016590

Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that your spouse's enrollment in an Essential Plan was effective April 1, 2017?

Procedural History

On February 25, 2017, you added your spouse to your NYSOH account and filed an application for financial assistance with health insurance on his behalf.

On February 26, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination, based on your February 25, 2017 application, stating that your spouse was eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective April 1, 2017.

Also on February 26, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of enrollment, based on your plan selection on February 25, 2017, stating that your spouse was enrolled in an Essential Plan, and that his plan would start on April 1, 2017.

On March 4, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the start date of your spouse's enrollment in his Essential Plan, insofar as it did not begin March 1, 2017.

On July 7, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

Findings of Fact

A review of the record support the following findings of fact:

- 1) You submitted an application to NYSOH for financial assistance on behalf of your spouse on February 25, 2017.
- 2) You testified, and the record reflects, that you enrolled your spouse in an Essential Plan on that same day.
- 3) You testified that you were not told when you applied on behalf of your spouse that his coverage would not begin until April 1, 2017.
- 4) You testified that your spouse had an eye doctor appointment in March 2017 that he had to cancel because his coverage had not started yet.
- 5) You testified that your spouse previously had other health insurance coverage that ended at the end of February 2017.
- 6) You testified that your concern at this point is whether there will be any tax consequences due to the fact that your spouse was without health insurance coverage for a month.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Essential Plan Effective Date

For individuals seeking enrollment in an Essential Plan, New York State has elected to follow the same rules that NYSOH uses in determining effective dates for individuals seeking enrollment in qualified health plans (NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(4)(c); New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 16, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

The effective date of coverage by an Essential Plan is determined by the date on which an applicant selects a plan for enrollment. For individuals who are eligible for enrollment, NYSOH must generally ensure that coverage is effective the first day of the following month for selections received by NYSOH from the first to the fifteenth of any month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(i); see also 42 CFR § 600.320). For selections received by NYSOH from the sixteenth to the last day of any month, NYSOH must ensure coverage is effective the first day of the second following month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(ii)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your spouse's enrollment in his Essential Plan was effective April 1, 2017.

You testified, and the record indicates, that you submitted an application through NYSOH on behalf of your spouse on February 25, 2017. As a result, he was found eligible for the Essential Plan as of April 1, 2017, and enrolled into a plan that day.

The date on which enrollment in an Essential Plan can take effect depends on the day a person selects the plan for enrollment.

A plan that is selected from the first day to and including the fifteenth day of a month goes into effect on the first day of the following month. A plan that is selected from the sixteenth day of the month to the end of the month goes into effect on the first day of the second following month.

On February 25, 2017, you selected an Essential Plan on behalf of your spouse, so his enrollment properly took effect on the first day of the second month following February 2017: that is, on April 1, 2017.

Therefore, the February 26, 2017 enrollment confirmation notice stating that your spouse's enrollment in his Essential Plan began on April 1, 2017, is correct and must be AFFIRMED.

You testified during the hearing that you are concerned that you and your spouse could incur a tax penalty because he did not have coverage in the month of March 2017. NYSOH does not have any jurisdiction over this issue. If you have questions about tax issues, you should contact the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), or your tax preparer.
