Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that your spouse was eligible to receive up to $205.00 per month in advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC), effective May 1, 2017?

Did NYSOH properly determine that your spouse was eligible for cost-sharing reductions?

Did NYSOH properly determine that your spouse was not eligible for the Essential Plan?

Procedural History

On March 17, 2017, you updated your spouse's application for financial assistance. That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared finding your spouse eligible to receive up to $205.00 in APTC and eligible to receive cost-sharing reductions if she enrolled in a silver-level qualified health plan, effective May 1, 2017.

Also on March 17, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed your spouse's financial assistance insofar as the amount of APTC she was eligible to receive.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On March 18, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice, based on the March 17, 2017 application, stating that your spouse was eligible to receive up to $205.00 in APTC and eligible to receive cost-sharing reductions if she enrolled in a silver-level qualified health plan, effective May 1, 2017. That notice also stated that she was not eligible for the Essential Plan because her household income was over the allowable income limits for that program.

On June 21, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that your spouse expects to file her 2017 taxes with you using a tax filing status of married filing jointly. You will claim no dependents on that tax return.
- 2) You are seeking insurance for your spouse.
- 3) The application that was submitted on March 17, 2017 listed annual household income of $38,247.00. This consists of your Social Security benefits in the amount of $17,280.00 and your estimated 2017 employment income of $10,983.00, for a total of $28,263.00; plus, your spouse's Unemployment benefits in the amount of $9,984.00. You testified that this amount was correct.
- 4) You testified that your spouse may lose her Unemployment benefits in late July 2017 if she is not granted an extension. You are worried that she will not be able to afford insurance if this happens.
- 5) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, you and your spouse will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 6) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, you and your spouse live in Suffolk County, New York.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Advance Payments of Premium Tax Credit

Advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) are generally available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan (QHP) and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a QHP, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

The maximum amount of APTC that can be authorized equals:

- 1) the cost of the health insurance premium for the taxpayer's coverage family in the second lowest cost silver plan offered through NY State of Health in the county where the taxpayer resides minus

- 2) the taxpayer's expected contribution amount

(see 26 USC § 36B, 26 CFR § 1.36B-3).

The taxpayer's expected contribution amount is the amount that the taxpayer is expected to spend on health insurance premiums. The expected contribution for 2017 is set by federal law at 2.04% to 9.69% of household income (26 USC § 36B(b)(3)(A), 26 CFR § 1.36B-3T(g)(1), IRS Rev. Proc.2016-24).

In an analysis of APTC eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR §§ 155.300(a), 155.305(f)(1)(i)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two-person household (81 Federal Register 4036).

For annual household income in the range of at least 200% but less than 250% of the 2016 FPL, the expected contribution is between 6.43% and 8.21% of the household income (26 CFR § 1.36B-3T(g)(1), 45 CFR § 155.300(a), IRS Rev. Proc. 2016-24).

People who use the APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income (stated on NYSOH application) with their actual income (stated on their federal income tax return). Those who take less tax credit in advance than they claim on the tax return may get the rest of it as an income tax refund or have their tax bill reduced. Those who take more tax credit in advance than they can claim on their tax return will owe the difference as additional income taxes (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

Cost-Sharing Reductions

Cost-sharing reductions are available to a person who (1) is eligible to enroll in a QHP through NYSOH, (2) meets the requirements to receive APTC, (3) is expected to have an annual household income that does not exceed 250% of the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested, and (4) is enrolled in a silver-level QHP (45 CFR § 155.300(a), 45 CFR § 155.305(g)(1)).

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two-person household (81 Federal Register 4036).

Modified Adjusted Gross Income

NYSOH bases its eligibility determinations on modified adjusted gross income as defined in the federal tax code (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). The term “modified adjusted gross income” means adjusted gross income increased by (1) any income that was excluded under 26 USC § 911 for United States citizens or residents living abroad, (2) tax-exempt interest received or accrued, and (3) Social Security benefits that were excluded from gross income under 26 USC § 86 (see 26 USC § 36B(d)(2)(B), 26 CFR § 1.36B-1(e)(2)).

Legal Analysis

The first issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your spouse was eligible for APTC of up to $205.00 per month.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

The application that was submitted on March 17, 2017 listed an annual household income of $38,247.00, which includes earned income as well as Social Security benefits and Unemployment benefits.

Since Social Security benefits (regardless of whether all, a portion or none of that income is taxable) and Unemployment benefits are included in the household's income for purposes of determining your spouse's eligibility for financial assistance. Therefore, NYSOH correctly determined your spouse's household income to be $38,247.00, based on the information you provided.

Your spouse is in a two-person household for purposes of this analysis. She expects to file her 2017 income taxes as married filing jointly and will claim no dependents on that tax return.

Your spouse resides in Suffolk County, where the second lowest cost silver plan available for an individual through NYSOH costs $453.56 per month.

An annual income of $38,247.00 is 238.75% of the 2016 FPL for a two-person household. At 238.75% of the FPL, the expected contribution to the cost of the health insurance premium in 2017 is 7.81% of income, or $248.92 per month.

The maximum amount of APTC that can be approved equals the cost of the second lowest cost silver plan available through NYSOH for an individual in your county ($453.56 per month) minus your expected contribution ($248.92 per month), which equals $204.64 per month. Therefore, rounding to the nearest dollar, NYSOH correctly determined your spouse to be eligible for up to $205.00 per month in APTC, based on the information in her application.

The second issue under review is whether your spouse was properly found eligible for cost-sharing reductions. Cost-sharing reductions are available to a person who has a household income no greater than 250% of the FPL. Since a household income of $38,247.00 is 238.75% of the applicable FPL, NYSOH correctly found your spouse to be eligible for cost sharing reductions, based on the information in your spouse's application.

The third issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your spouse was ineligible for the Essential Plan, effective May 1, 2017.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size. On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $16,020.00 for a two-person household. Since an annual household income of $38,247.00 is 238.75% of the 2016 FPL, NYSOH properly found your spouse to be ineligible for the Essential Plan.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

Since the March 18, 2017 eligibility determination notice properly stated that, based on the information you and your spouse provided, she was eligible for up to $205.00 per month in APTC, eligible for cost-sharing reductions, and ineligible for the Essential Plan, it is correct and is AFFIRMED.

However, you testified that you were concerned that your spouse would not be recertified for Unemployment benefits in the future. Changes in income may result in a change in your spouse's eligibility and you are required to report any such change within 30 days of it occurring. Should your household income change, you are required to contact NYSOH and update your account accordingly.

Finally, at the end of a tax year, a person who elects to take the APTC to help pay for the cost of an insurance premium must file a tax return to reconcile any differences between the amount of income the person reported to NYSOH and their actual gross income for that year, which may also result in a tax credit or reduction in tax liability if the full amount of APTC to which a person is entitled is not taken throughout the year. Conversely, if a person received more APTC than their maximum entitlement, based on gross income, they might owe the excess as an additional income tax liability. The amount of APTC to which your spouse is entitled can be reconciled at the time your spouse files her 2017 federal tax return.
