Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you and your spouse do not qualify to change your enrollment into a different qualified health plan outside of the open enrollment period?

Procedural History

On December 15, 2016, NY State of Health (NYSOH) received your application for financial assistance with health insurance.

On December 16, 2016, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you and your spouse were eligible to receive advance premium tax credits (APTC) of up to $506.00 per month, for a limited time, effective January 1, 2017. This notice also directed you to submit income documentation by March 15, 2017.

Also on December 16, 2016, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming your and your spouse's enrollment in a gold-level qualified health plan and the application of your APTC in the amount of $506.00, effective January 1, 2017.

On or around March 29, 2017, you attempted to change your and your spouse's enrollment into a different qualified health plan, but were unable to.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On March 29, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed insofar as you and your spouse were not eligible to change enrollment into a different health plan outside of the open enrollment period.

On March 30, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice to confirm your appeal request from the previous day. That notice stated that the reason for your appeal was that "the consumer is requesting to change plans."

On July 12, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and the record was closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you are appealing the denial of a special enrollment period to change your and your spouse's enrollment into a different health plan through NYSOH.
- 2) On December 15, 2016, NYSOH received your updated application for financial assistance with health insurance.
- 3) On December 15, 2016, you and your spouse enrolled into a gold-level qualified health plan.
- 4) You testified that in 2016 you and your spouse were enrolled in the silver-level qualified health plan.
- 5) You testified that after talking to the representative from your qualified health plan you decided to enroll into a gold-level qualified health plan for 2017.
- 6) You testified that you were under the impression that the gold-level qualified health plan would include coverage for the services you and your spouse were already provided, plus additional coverage.
- 7) You testified that the gold-level qualified health plan does not cover some of the medical treatment that your spouse routinely receives, even though it was covered under the silver-level health plan.
- 8) You testified that at no time were you informed by your qualified health plan that you and your spouse would lose coverage for services that you and your spouse were provided if you upgraded to the gold-level qualified health plan.

- 9) You testified that you would like to switch your qualified health plan back to the silver-level plan for the remainder of the 2017 health insurance year in order for your spouse to have coverage for the medical treatment [REDACTED] receives.
- 10) You testified that since filing your application on December 15, 2017 there have been no other major changes to your household.
- 11) You testified that you did not rely on any statements made by NYSOH that prevented you in changing enrollment into a different qualified health plan sooner.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

De Novo Review

NYSOH Appeals Unit must review each appeal de novo and “consider all relevant facts and evidence adduced during the appeals process” (45 CFR § 155.535(f)). “De novo review means a review of an appeal without deference to prior decisions in the case” (45 CFR § 155.500).

Enrollment in a Qualified Health Plan

NYSOH must provide annual open enrollment periods during which time qualified individuals may enroll in a qualified health plan and enrollees may change qualified health plans (45 CFR § 155.410(a)(1)).

For the benefit year beginning on January 1, 2017, the annual open enrollment period began on November 1, 2016, and extended through January 31, 2017 (45 CFR § 155.410(e)(2)).

Special Enrollment Periods

After each open enrollment period ends, NYSOH provides special enrollment periods to qualified individuals. During a special enrollment period, a qualified individual may enroll in a qualified health plan, and an enrollee may change their enrollment to another plan. This is generally permitted when one of the following triggering events occur:

- (1) The qualified individual or his or her dependent either:

- (i) Loses minimum essential coverage.
- (ii) Is enrolled in any non-calendar year group health plan or individual health insurance coverage, even if the qualified individual or his or her dependent has the option to renew such coverage.
- (iii) Loses pregnancy-related coverage.
- (iv) Loses medically needy coverage as described under section 1902(a)(10)(C) of the Social Security Act only once per calendar year.

(2)(i) The qualified individual gains a dependent or becomes a dependent through marriage, birth, adoption, placement for adoption, or placement in foster care, or through a child support order or other court order.

- (ii) the enrollee loses a dependent or is no longer considered a dependent through divorce or legal separation as defined by State law in the State in which the divorce or legal separation occurs, or if the enrollee, or his or her dependent, dies.

(3) The qualified individual, or his or her dependent, becomes newly eligible for enrollment in a qualified health plan because he or she gains citizenship, status as a national, or lawful present or is no longer incarcerated.

(4) The qualified individual's or his or her dependent's, enrollment or non-enrollment in a qualified health plan is unintentional, inadvertent, or erroneous and is the result of the error, misrepresentation, misconduct, or inaction of an officer, employee, or agent of NYSOH, its instrumentalities, or a non-NYSOH entity providing enrollment assistance or conducting enrollment activities.

(5) The enrollee or, his or her dependent adequately demonstrates to NYSOH that the qualified health plan in which he or she is enrolled substantially violated a material provision of its contract in relation to the enrollee;

(6) The enrollee or enrollee's dependent is newly eligible or ineligible for advance payments of the premium tax credit, or change in eligibility for cost-sharing reductions.

(7) The qualified individual or enrollee, or his or her dependent, gains access to new qualified health plan as a result of a permanent move and either—

- (i) Had minimum essential coverage for one or more days during the 60 days preceding the date of the permanent move, or
 - (ii) Was living outside of the United States or in a United States territory at the time of the permanent move;
- (8) The qualified individual or dependent who gains or maintains status as an Indian may enroll in a qualified health plan or change from one plan to another, once per month.
- (9) The qualified individual or enrollee, or his or her dependent, demonstrates to the Exchange, in accordance with guidelines issued by HHS, that the individual meets other exceptional circumstances as the Exchange may provide;
- (10) A qualified individual or enrollee—
 - (i) Is a victim of domestic abuse or spousal abandonment, including a dependent or unmarried victim within a household, is enrolled in minimum essential coverage and seeks to enroll in coverage separate from the perpetrator of the abuse or abandonment; or
 - (ii) Is a dependent of a victim of domestic abuse or spousal abandonment, on the same application as the victim, may enroll in coverage at the same time as the victim;
- (11) A qualified individual or dependent—
 - (i) Applies for coverage through NYSOH during the annual open enrollment period or due to a qualifying event, is assessed as potentially eligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus and is determined ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus either after open enrollment has ended or more than 60 days after the qualifying event; or
 - (ii) Applies for coverage at their Local Department of Social Services or Human Resources Administration during the annual open enrollment period, and is determined ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus after open enrollment has ended;
- (12) The qualified individual or enrollee, or his or her dependent, adequately demonstrates to NYSOH that a material error related to plan benefits, service area, or premium influenced the qualified individual's or enrollee's decision to purchase a qualified health plan; or

(13) At the option of NYSOH, the qualified individual provides satisfactory documentary evidence to verify his or her eligibility for an insurance affordability program or enrollment following termination of enrollment due to a failure to verify such status within 90 days. NYSOH has not elected to adopt this subsection at this time.

(45 CFR § 155.420(d)).

Generally, if a triggering life event occurs, the qualified individual or enrollee has 60 days from the date of a triggering event to select a qualified health plan (45 CFR § 155.420(c)(1)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you and your spouse do not qualify to change your enrollment into a different qualified health plan outside of the open enrollment period.

You testified that you are appealing the denial of a special enrollment period to change your and your spouse's enrollment into a different health plan through NYSOH. However, the record does not contain a notice of eligibility determination or redetermination on the issue of special enrollment period.

Here, the lack of a notice of eligibility determination on the issue of special enrollment periods does not prevent the Appeals Unit from reaching the merits of the case or constitute material error. Under 45 CFR § 155.505(b), you are as entitled to appeal NYSOH failure to timely issue a notice of eligibility determination as you are to appeal an adverse notice of eligibility determination. Your credible testimony along with the March 29, 2017 appeal confirmation notice stating that the reason for your appeal was "the consumer is requesting to change plan", permits an inference that NYSOH did deny your special enrollment request.

Since the Appeals Unit review of NYSOH determinations is performed on a de novo basis, no deference would have been granted to the eligibility determination notice had it been issued.

NYSOH provided an open enrollment period from November 1, 2016 until January 31, 2017. On December 15, 2017, you submitted an application for health insurance and you and your spouse enrolled into a gold-level qualified health plan. On or around March 29, 2017, you requested to change your and your spouse's enrollment into a different qualified health plan, but were unable to do so.

Once the annual open enrollment period ends, a health plan enrollee must qualify for a special enrollment period in order to enroll in, or change to another health plan offered in NYSOH. In order to qualify for a special enrollment period, a person must experience a triggering event.

A special enrollment period can be granted if a qualified individual's enrollment or non-enrollment in a qualified health plan is unintentional, inadvertent, or erroneous and is the result of the error, misrepresentation, misconduct, or inaction of an officer, employee, or agent of NYSOH, its instrumentalities, or a non-NYSOH entity providing enrollment assistance or conducting enrollment activities

You testified that before you enrolled into a qualified health plan, you spoke with a representative from your qualified health plan, and she spoke to you about changing your enrollment for 2017 to the gold-level qualified health plan. You agreed to change your and your spouse's enrollment to the gold-level qualified health plan for 2017. You testified that shortly after enrolling, your spouse was informed that the medical treatment [REDACTED] receives was no longer being covered by your insurance company. You testified that you thought that you were upgrading your and your spouse's plan to allow for more services to be covered and at no time were you told that services you and your spouse had been receiving would no longer be covered under the new level plan. However, the representative from your qualified health plan is not an instrumentality or agent of NYSOH. Since the record does not indicate that NYSOH, by action or inaction, made an error or misrepresented information, a special enrollment period cannot be granted.

The credible evidence of record indicates that, since the open enrollment period closed on January 31, 2017, no other triggering events have occurred that would qualify you or your spouse for a special enrollment period.

Therefore, NYSOH's denial of a special enrollment period to change enrollment into a different health plan outside of the open enrollment period for 2017 is AFFIRMED.
