Decision

Decision Date: September 6, 2017

NY State of Health Account ID:

Appeal Identification Number: AP00000018028

Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you were eligible to receive up to $188.00 per month in advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC), effective April 1, 2017?

Did NYSOH properly determine that you were eligible for cost-sharing reductions?

Did NYSOH properly determine that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan?

Procedural History

On April 6, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination stating that you were eligible to receive up to $188.00 in APTC and eligible to receive cost-sharing reductions, effective May 1, 2017. That notice also stated that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan because your income was over the allowable income limit for that program.

On April 14, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and requested a redetermination of your eligibility insofar as you are seeking to be determined eligible for the Essential Plan.

On August 4, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You are seeking insurance for yourself.
- 2) The application that was submitted on April 5, 2017 indicated that you were planning on claiming one dependent on your 2017 tax return.
- 3) The application that was submitted on April 5, 2017 listed annual household income of $39,633.88, consisting of $39,633.88 you earn from your employment. You testified that this amount was correct.
- 4) You testified that you expect to file your 2017 tax return with a tax filing status of single. You testified that you will not be claiming any dependents on that tax return.
- 5) The eligibility determination dated April 6, 2017 was based on you claiming one dependent on your 2017 tax return and you being in a two-person household.
- 6) Your application states that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 7) Your application states that you live in
- 8) You testified that you are seeking a redetermination of your eligibility insofar as you are seeking to be determined eligible for the Essential Plan.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Advance Payments of Premium Tax Credit

Advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) are generally available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan (QHP) and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a QHP, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

People who use the APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income (stated on NYSOH application) with their actual income (stated on their federal income tax return). Those who take less tax credit in advance than they claim on the tax return may get the rest of it as an income tax refund or have their tax bill reduced. Those who take more tax credit in advance than they can claim on their tax return will owe the difference as additional income taxes (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

Cost-Sharing Reductions

Cost-sharing reductions (CSR) are available to a person who (1) is eligible to enroll in a QHP through NYSOH, (2) meets the requirements to receive APTC, (3) is expected to have an annual household income that does not exceed 250% of the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested, and (4) is enrolled in a silver-level QHP (45 CFR § 155.300(a), 45 CFR § 155.305(g)(1)).

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present noncitizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

The Essential Plan is considered minimum essential coverage therefore, a person who is eligible for the Essential Plan is not eligible for any premium tax credit because they are eligible for minimum essential coverage through the individual market (see 26 CFR § 1.36B-2(c)(1), 26 USC § 5000A(f)(1)(C)).

Legal Analysis

The issue is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for an APTC of up to $188.00 per month, eligible for cost-sharing reductions and not eligible for the Essential Plan.

The application that was submitted on April 5, 2017 listed an annual household income of $39,633.88 and the eligibility determination relied upon that information. The April 5, 2017 application also indicated that you were planning on claiming one dependent on your 2017 tax return.

The April 6, 2017 eligibility determination was based on you claiming one dependent on your 2017 tax return and being in a two-person household. However, at the hearing you testified that you will claim no dependents on your 2017 tax return. Therefore, you would be in a one-person household.

Since the April 6, 2017 eligibility determination notice was based on incorrect information, it is RESCINDED and your case is being RETURNED to NYSOH to redetermine your eligibility based on being in a one-person household with an annual household income of $39,633.88 residing in
