Decision

Decision Date: September 15, 2017

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000019229

Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you were eligible for Medicaid, effective May 1, 2017?

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan?

Procedural History

On May 22, 2017, you submitted an updated application for financial assistance and indicated that you were pregnant and expecting one child.

On May 23, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination stating that you were eligible for Medicaid, effective May 1, 2017.

Also on May 23, 2017, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming your enrollment in a Medicaid Managed Care plan, effective July 1, 2017.

On May 24, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the eligibility determination insofar as you were found eligible for Medicaid, and you did not remain eligible for the Essential Plan.

On June 6, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination stating that you were eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, for a limited time, effective July 1, 2017. This notice further stated that you had been granted Aid to Continue until a decision was made on your appeal.

On June 10, 2017, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming your enrollment in the Essential Plan, effective June 1, 2017.

On September 5, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and the record was closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You are seeking insurance for yourself.
- 2) You testified that you expect to file your 2017 taxes with a tax filing status of single. You will claim one dependent on that tax return since you are pregnant and are due on [REDACTED].
- 3) You testified, and the record reflects, that you are pregnant and are expecting one child.
- 4) The application that was submitted on May 22, 2017 listed an annual household income of $28,000.00, consisting of income you earn from your employment. You testified that this amount was correct.
- 5) Your application states, and you confirmed, that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 6) Your application states, and you confirmed, that you live in [REDACTED].
- 7) You testified that you are pregnant and unsure about whether your Doctor accepts a Medicaid Managed Care plan, so you would like to stay with an Essential Plan until your pregnancy is over.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Medicaid Household Composition

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

For purposes of Medicaid eligibility, the household size of either a pregnant woman or a person who is in the family of a pregnant woman includes not only the pregnant woman, but also the number of children she expects to deliver (42 CFR § 435.603(b); State Plan Amendment (SPA) 13-0055-MM3, as approved by the US Department of Health and Human Services, March 19, 2014).

Medicaid-Pregnant Women

In an analysis of Medicaid eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL “for the applicable budget period used to determine an individual's eligibility” (42 CFR § 435.4). On the date of your application, that was the 2017 FPL, which is $16,240.00 for a two-person household (82 Fed. Reg. 8831).

Medicaid is currently available to pregnant women who have a modified adjusted gross income at or below 223% of the FPL for the applicable family size (see 42 CFR § 435.116(c); New York State Department of Health 13 OHIP/ADM-03).

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

Legal Analysis

The first issue is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for Medicaid, effective May 1, 2017.

The application that was submitted on May 22, 2017 listed an annual household income of $28,000.00 and the eligibility determination relied upon that information.

When calculating family size for Medicaid purposes, the household size of a pregnant woman includes not only the pregnant woman but also the number of children she expects to deliver.

The application that was submitted on May 22, 2017 indicates that you were pregnant with one child. Therefore, you were considered to be in a two-person household for determining your eligibility for Medicaid.

Medicaid is currently available to pregnant women who have a modified adjusted gross income at or below 223% of the FPL for the applicable family size, and meet the non-financial criteria for Medicaid eligibility. There is no indication in the record that you do not meet the non-financial criteria for Medicaid eligibility.

On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $16,240.00 for a two-person household. Since $28,000.00 is 172.41% of the 2017 FPL, NYSOH properly found you eligible for Medicaid based on an expected annual income basis, using the information provided in your application.

The second issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size, and who are not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage.

Based on the information provided in your May 22, 2017 application, NYSOH found you eligible for Medicaid, effective May 1, 2017. Since Medicaid is considered minimum essential coverage, you were no longer eligible to enroll into the Essential Plan. Therefore, NYSOH properly determined that you were ineligible for the Essential Plan, effective May 1, 2017.

Since the May 23, 2017 eligibility determination properly stated that, based on the information you provided, you were eligible for Medicaid, and ineligible for the Essential Plan, it is correct and is AFFIRMED.
