Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

> Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you were eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20 per month premium, effective August 1, 2017?

Procedural History

On June 20, 2017, you updated your application for financial assistance. That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared finding you eligible enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective August 1, 2017. This determination was based on your attested household income of $21,840.00.

Also on June 20, 2017, you uploaded to your NYSOH account, two bi-weekly pay statements (see Document [redacted]).

Also on June 20, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed your eligibility for the Essential Plan stating that you could not afford the $20.00 monthly premium payments.

On June 21, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium for a limited period of time, effective August 1, 2017. The notice instructed you to submit proof of household income by September 18, 2017.

Also on June 21, 2017, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming your June 20, 2017 selection of your Essential Plan 1 with a $20.00 monthly premium and a plan enrollment start date of August 1, 2017.

Also on June 21, 2017, NYSOH validated the income documentation you submitted on June 20, 2017 and your household income was updated. NYSOH ran your eligibility for financial assistance at that time based on validated household income of $21,840.00.

On June 22, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium without condition, effective August 1, 2017.

On September 22, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

1) You testified that you expect to file your 2017 taxes with a tax filing status of single. You will claim no dependents on that tax return.

2) You are seeking insurance for yourself.

3) The applications that was submitted on June 20, 2017 and June 21, 2017 listed annual household income of $21,840.00, consisting of wages you earn from your employment. You testified that this amount was correct.

4) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, you earn $10.50 per hour and generally work a 40-hour work week with occasional overtime.

5) Your application states that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.

6) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, you live in [redacted], New York.

7) You testified that you cannot afford the $20.00 monthly premium and want to be reconsidered for the Essential Plan with no monthly premium.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $11,880.00 for a one-person household (81 Federal Register 4036).

A person who has a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL has a $0.00 premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 21, as approved January 2016; see https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html).

A person who has a household income greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL has a $20.00 per month premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, as approved January 2016).

The Essential Plan is considered minimum essential coverage, therefore, a person who is eligible for the Essential Plan is not eligible for any premium tax credit because they are eligible for minimum essential coverage through the individual market (see 26 CFR § 1.36B-2(c)(1), 26 USC § 5000A(f)(1)(C)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective August 1, 2017.

You are in a one-person household for purposes of this analysis. This is because you expect to file your 2017 income taxes as single and will claim no dependents on that tax return.

The application that was submitted on June 20, 2017, listed an annual household income of $21,840.00 and the eligibility determination relied upon that information.

On June 21, 2017, NYSOH verified your attested household income of $21,840.00 based on the two bi-weekly pay statements that you submitted on June 20, 2017 (40 hours per week X $10.50 per hour X 52 weeks).

On June 21, 2017, NYSOH re-ran your eligibility based on the verified household income of $21,840.00 and you were again determined eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective August 1, 2017.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size. Applicants with a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL have a $0.00 premium contribution and applicants with a household income that is greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL have a $20.00 per month premium contribution.

On the date of your June 20, 2017 and the updated June 21, 2017 applications, the relevant FPL was $11,880.00 for a one-person household. Since an annual household income of $21,840.00 is 183.83% of the 2016 FPL, NYSOH properly found you to be eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium.

Since the June 21, 2017 and June 22, 2017 eligibility determination notices properly stated that, based on the information you provided, you were eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective August 1, 2017, they are correct and are AFFIRMED.
