Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

Does the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health (NYSOH) have the authority to review whether your son's enrollment in his Essential Plan coverage was properly terminated for non-payment of premium, effective May 31, 2017?

Did NYSOH properly determine that your son's reenrollment in the Essential Plan was effective August 1, 2017?

Procedural History

On October 21, 2016, NYSOH issued a renewal notice stating that your oldest son was eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective January 1, 2017.

On November 18, 2016, NYSOH issued a notice confirming your oldest son's enrollment in a Fidelis Essential Plan, beginning January 1, 2017.

On June 6, 2017, NYSOH issued a disenrollment notice stating that your oldest son's enrollment in his Essential Plan was terminated, effective May 31, 2017, because a premium payment had not been received by the health plan.

On June 24, 2017, NYSOH issue a notice of enrollment confirmation, based on your plan selection on June 23, 2017, stating that your [REDACTED] was enrolled in a Fidelis Essential Plan, beginning August 1, 2017.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On June 27, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the termination of your [REDACTED] Essential Plan coverage for the months of June and July 2017.

On September 20, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you are only appealing your [REDACTED] [REDACTED] disenrollment from his Essential Plan coverage for the months of June and July 2017.
- 2) Your [REDACTED] was enrolled into an Essential Plan beginning January 1, 2017.
- 3) You testified that your son received invoices at his college mailing address, and that he would give you the invoice so that you could make a payment.
- 4) You testified that, when your son came home from college for the summer, he did not update his mailing address with his Essential Plan, and his bills continued to go to his college mailing address, so he missed a premium payment.
- 5) You testified that, around the end of June 2017, you received a notice stating that your son had been disenrolled from his Essential Plan.
- 6) Your NYSOH account reflects that your son was disenrolled from his Essential Plan coverage effective May 31, 2017, as stated in a disenrollment notice dated June 6, 2017.
- 7) You testified that when you became aware that your son had been disenrolled, you contacted NYSOH to reenroll him in coverage.
- 8) On June 23, 2017, NYSOH received your Essential Plan selection, and your son was enrolled into Essential Plan coverage beginning August 1, 2017.
- 9) You testified that your son has medical bills for both June and July 2017 that need to be paid.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Appealable Issues

An applicant has the right to appeal to NYSOH's Appeals Unit: (1) an eligibility determination, including the amount of advance payments of the premium tax credit and level of cost-sharing reductions; (2) a redetermination of eligibility, including the amount of advance payments of the premium tax credit and level of cost-sharing reductions; (3) a failure by NYSOH to provide timely notice of an eligibility determination; and (4) a denial of a request for a special enrollment period (45 CFR § 155.505(b)(1)(iii), 45 CFR § 155.305(b), and 45 CFR § 155.420(d)).

Essential Plan Effective Date

For individuals seeking enrollment in an Essential Plan, New York State has elected to follow the same rules that NYSOH uses in determining effective dates for individuals seeking enrollment in qualified health plans (NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(4)(c); New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 16, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

The effective date of coverage by an Essential Plan is determined by the date on which an applicant selects a plan for enrollment. For individuals who are eligible for enrollment, NYSOH must generally ensure that coverage is effective the first day of the following month for selections received by NYSOH from the first to the fifteenth of any month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(i); see also 42 CFR § 600.320). For selections received by NYSOH from the sixteenth to the last day of any month, NYSOH must ensure coverage is effective the first day of the second following month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(ii)).

Legal Analysis

The first issue under review is whether the Appeals Unit of NYSOH has the authority to review whether your son's enrollment in his Essential Plan coverage was properly terminated for non-payment of premium, effective May 31, 2017.

On November 17, 2106, your oldest son was enrolled into an Essential Plan, beginning January 1, 2017.

You testified that you paid your son's monthly premiums, and that you would do so when he brought you invoices that he received in the mail. You testified that, when your son came home from college for the summer, he did not update his mailing address with his Essential Plan, and the bills continued to go to his college address. You testified that this caused you to miss a premium payment, and you discovered in June 2017 that your son's coverage had been terminated at the end of May 2017.

On June 6, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice stating that your oldest son was disenrolled from his Essential Plan coverage for non-payment of premiums, effective May 31, 2017.

NYSOH Appeals Unit only has the authority to review issues related to the following: (1) an eligibility determination, including the amount of advance payments of the premium tax credit and level of cost-sharing reductions, (2) a redetermination of eligibility, including the amount of advance payments of the premium tax credit and level of cost-sharing reductions, (3) a failure to provide timely notice of an eligibility determination and (4) a denial of a special enrollment period.

Since the Appeals Unit is not given the authority to review termination of enrollment due to non-payment of premiums, we cannot reach the merits as to whether your son was properly terminated from his Essential Plan coverage for non-payment of premiums. Therefore, your appeal of the June 6, 2017 disenrollment notice is DISMISSED as a non-appealable issue.

The second issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your oldest son's reenrollment in his Essential Plan coverage began on August 1, 2017.

Your NYSOH account reflects that you contacted NYSOH on June 23, 2017 to reenroll your son into an Essential Plan, and you testified that this is correct.

The date on which an Essential Plan can take effect depends on the day a person selects the plan for enrollment. A plan that is selected between the first day and fifteenth day of a month goes into effect on the first day of the following month. A plan that is selected from the sixteenth day of the month and the end of the month goes into effect on the first day of the second following month.

As you contacted NYSOH to reenroll your son into an Essential Plan on June 23, 2017, his reenrollment should have taken effect the first day of the second month following June 2017: that is, on August 1, 2017.

Therefore, the June 24, 2017 enrollment confirmation notice stating that your oldest son's reenrollment in his Essential Plan coverage began August 1, 2017 is AFFIRMED.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).
