Decision

Decision Date: October 6, 2017

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000020374

Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you were eligible to receive up to $185.00 per month in advance payments of the premium tax credit, effective August 1, 2017?

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you were not eligible for cost-sharing reductions?

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan?

Procedural History

On July 10, 2017, you updated your application for financial assistance. That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared stating that you were eligible to receive up to $185.00 in advanced premium tax credits (APTC), for a limited time, effective August 1, 2017.

Also on July 10, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the eligibility determination insofar as you were not found eligible for the Essential Plan.

On July 11, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination, based on the July 10, 2017 application, stating that you were eligible to receive up to $185.00 in APTC, effective August 1, 2017. That notice also stated that you were not eligible for cost-sharing reductions, nor the Essential Plan because your income was over the allowable income limits for those programs.

On September 26, 2017, your spouse, [REDACTED], acted as your authorized representative during a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and the record was closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) Your application states that you are only seeking insurance for yourself.
- 2) Your spouse testified that you expect to file your 2017 taxes with a tax filing status of married filing jointly. You will claim no dependents on that tax return.
- 3) The application that was submitted on July 10, 2017 listed annual household income of $42,846.80, consisting of $29,612.00 you earn from your employment and $13,234.80 your spouse receives in Social Security disability benefits. Your spouse testified that this amount was correct.
- 4) Your spouse testified that she does not think it is fair that NYSOH includes her Social Security disability benefits as income when calculating your eligibility.
- 5) Your spouse testified that you work at [REDACTED] which is only open full time seasonally, and that during the winter your hours are drastically different then what they are in the summer months.
- 6) Your application states that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 7) Your application states, and your spouse confirmed, that you live in Herkimer County.
- 8) Your spouse testified that she does not think it is right that you have to give up your second job just so you are eligible for more affordable health insurance.

- 9) Your spouse testified that you would like to be found eligible for the Essential Plan, and not APTC.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Advance Payments of Premium Tax Credit

Advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) are generally available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan (QHP) and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a QHP, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

The maximum amount of APTC that can be authorized equals:

- 1) the cost of the health insurance premium for the taxpayer's coverage family in the second lowest cost silver plan offered through NY State of Health in the county where the taxpayer resides minus

- 2) the taxpayer's expected contribution amount

(see 26 USC § 36B, 26 CFR § 1.36B-3).

The taxpayer's expected contribution amount is the amount that the taxpayer is expected to spend on health insurance premiums. The expected contribution for 2017 is set by federal law at 2.04% to 9.69% of household income (26 USC § 36B(b)(3)(A), 26 CFR § 1.36B-3T(g)(1), IRS Rev. Proc.2016-24).

In an analysis of APTC eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR §§ 155.300(a), 155.305(f)(1)(i)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two -person household (81 Federal Register 4036).

For annual household income in the range of at least 250% but less than 300% of the 2016 FPL, the expected contribution for 2017 is between 8.21% and 9.69% of the household income (26 CFR § 1.36B-3T(g)(1), 45 CFR § 155.300(a), IRS Rev. Proc. 2016-24).

People who use the APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income (stated on NYSOH application) with their actual income (stated on their federal income tax return). Those who take less tax credit in advance than they claim on the tax return may get the rest of it as an income tax refund or have their tax bill reduced. Those who take more tax credit in advance than they can claim on their tax return will owe the difference as additional income taxes (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

Household Composition

For purposes of advance premium tax credit (APTC) and cost-sharing reductions (CSR), the household size equals the number of individuals for whom the taxpayer is allowed a deduction under 26 USC § 151 for the taxable year, which typically includes: (1) the taxpayer, (2) his or her spouse, and (3) any claimed dependents (26 USC § 36B(d)(1)).

Modified Gross Income

NYSOH bases its eligibility determinations on modified adjusted gross income as defined in the federal tax code (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). The term “modified adjusted gross income” means adjusted gross income increased by (1) any income that was excluded under 26 USC § 911 for United States citizens or residents living abroad, (2) tax-exempt interest received or accrued, and (3) Social Security benefits that were excluded from gross income under 26 USC § 86 (see 26 USC § 36B(d)(2)(B), 26 CFR § 1.36B-1(e)(2)).

In general, household income means the aggregate modified adjusted gross income of every person who is included in the taxpayer's family and is required to file a federal tax return (26 CFR § 1.36B-1(e)).

Cost-Sharing Reductions

Cost-sharing reductions (CSR) are available to a person who (1) is eligible to enroll in a QHP through NYSOH, (2) meets the requirements to receive APTC, (3) is expected to have an annual household income that does not exceed 250% of the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested, and (4) is enrolled in a silver-level QHP (45 CFR § 155.300(a), 45 CFR § 155.305(g)(1)).

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two-person household (81 Fed. Reg. 4036).

A person who has a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL has a $0.00 premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 21, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

A person who has a household income greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL has a $20.00 per month premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, as approved January 2016).

The Essential Plan is considered minimum essential coverage therefore, a person who is eligible for the Essential Plan is not eligible for any premium tax credit because they are eligible for minimum essential coverage through the individual market (see 26 CFR § 1.36B-2(c)(1), 26 USC § 5000A(f)(1)(C)).

Legal Analysis

The first issue is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for up to $185.00 per month in APTC.

The application that was submitted on July 10, 2017 listed an annual household income of $42,826.80; which consists of $29,621.00 you earn in income from employment, and $13,234.80 your spouse receives from Social Security disability benefits.

During the hearing, your spouse testified that the amount you provided in the application was correct. However, your spouse testified that she does not believe that her Social Security disability benefits should be included in your household income when determining your eligibility for financial assistance.

Household income consists of the aggregate modified adjusted gross income of every person in the household who is required to file a federal tax return. Further, NYSOH bases its eligibility determinations using a modified adjusted gross income; which means that an applicant's adjusted gross income is increased by income received from Social Security disability benefits. Therefore, your household income consists of your own income plus your spouse's income, because you and your spouse are married and will be filing a joint federal tax return.

Therefore, NYSOH correctly calculated your household income to be $42,826.80, and the eligibility determination relied upon that information.

You are in a two-person household. You expect to file your 2017 income taxes as married filing jointly and will claim no dependents on that tax return.

You reside in Herkimer County, where the second lowest cost silver plan available for an individual through NYSOH costs $496.57 per month.

An annual income of $42,827.00 is 267.33% of the 2016 FPL for a two-person household. At 267.33% of the FPL, the expected contribution to the cost of the health insurance premium in 2017 is 8.72% of income, or $311.21 per month.

The maximum amount of APTC that can be approved equals the cost of the second lowest cost silver plan available through NYSOH for an individual in your county ($496.57 per month) minus your expected contribution ($311.21 per month), which equals $185.36 per month. Therefore, rounding to the nearest dollar, NYSOH correctly determined you to be eligible for up to $185.00 per month in APTC.

The second issue is whether you were properly found ineligible for cost-sharing reductions.

Cost-sharing reductions are available to a person who has a household income no greater than 250% of the FPL. Since a household income of $42,827.00 is 267.33% of the applicable FPL, NYSOH correctly found you to be ineligible for cost sharing reductions.

The third issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size. On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $42,827.00 for a two-person household. Since an annual household income of $42,827.00 is 267.33% of the 2016 FPL, NYSOH properly found you to be not eligible for the Essential Plan.

Since the July 11, 2017 eligibility determination properly stated that, based on the information you provided, you were eligible for up to $185.00 per month in APTC, ineligible for cost-sharing reductions, and ineligible for the Essential Plan, it is correct and is AFFIRMED.
