Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that your domestic partner did not qualify to enroll in a qualified health plan outside of the open enrollment period, effective August 1, 2017?

Procedural History

Initially it is noted that your domestic partner previously had her own separate NYSOH account, [REDACTED] and had health insurance through that account. As such, there are aspects of the history in that account that are included herein.

In account [REDACTED] your domestic partner was eligible for Medicaid, effective March 1, 2016, and was enrolled in a Medicaid Managed Care plan.

On February 17, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that your domestic partner was not eligible for any insurance affordability programs and could not enroll in a qualified health plan at full cost through NYSOH. This was because she had not responded to the renewal notice and had not completed her renewal within the required time frame.

Also on February 17, 2017, NYSOH issued a disenrollment notice stating that her coverage in her Medicaid Managed Care plan would end on February 28, 2017.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On February 28, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination, based upon a February 27, 2017 updated application, that stated your domestic partner was eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium for a limited period of time, effective April 1, 2017. Your domestic partner no longer qualified for a qualified health plan as of March 31, 2017. There is nothing in her NYSOH account to indicate she selected a health plan after this eligibility determination.

According to your NYSOH account, [REDACTED] on July 11, 2017, you added your domestic partner to your account and submitted an updated application for financial assistance.

On July 12, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating in relevant part that your domestic partner did not qualify to select a health plan outside of the open enrollment period for 2017.

On July 19, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed that eligibility determination insofar as your domestic partner was not eligible to enroll in a health plan outside of the open enrollment period.

On October 5, 2017, you and your domestic partner had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and held open to October 20, 2017, to allow you to submit supporting documents.

On October 6, 2017, you uploaded income documentation for your domestic partner. Those documents have been made part of the record as Appellant's Exhibit # 1 collectively. The record was closed at that time.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) Your domestic partner previously had her own account, [REDACTED] with NYSOH and obtained health insurance through that account.
- 2) Your domestic partner lost her health insurance coverage through her NYSOH account effective February 28, 2017 because she failed to renew her application within the required timeframe.
- 3) Your domestic partner was determined eligible for the Essential Plan effective April 1, 2017, in her own account but there is no indication in the record that she enrolled in a plan.

- 4) According to your NYSOH account, on July 11, 2017, you added your domestic partner to your account and submitted an application for health insurance.
- 5) On July 11, 2017, you attempted to enroll your domestic partner in a qualified health plan but were unable to do so.
- 6) Your July 11, 2017 application states that you were seeking a special enrollment for your domestic partner based on her losing minimum essential coverage (MEC) on February 28, 2017.
- 7) You testified that, since filing your application on July 11, 2017, there have been no major changes to your household.
- 8) You testified that you did not rely on any statements made by NYSOH that prevented you in enrolling in a qualified health plan sooner.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Enrollment in a Qualified Health Plan

NYSOH must provide annual open enrollment periods during which time qualified individuals may enroll in a qualified health plan and enrollees may change qualified health plans (45 CFR § 155.410(a)(1)).

For the benefit year beginning on January 1, 2017, the annual open enrollment period began on November 1, 2016, and extended through January 31, 2017 (45 CFR § 155.410(e)(2)).

Special Enrollment Periods

After each open enrollment period ends, NYSOH provides special enrollment periods to qualified individuals. During a special enrollment period, a qualified individual may enroll in a qualified health plan, and an enrollee may change their enrollment to another plan. This is generally permitted when one of the following triggering events occur:

- (1) The qualified individual or his or her dependent either:
 - (i) Loses minimum essential coverage.

(ii) Is enrolled in any non-calendar year group health plan or individual health insurance coverage, even if the qualified individual or his or her dependent has the option to renew such coverage.

(iii) Loses pregnancy-related coverage.

(iv) Loses medically needy coverage as described under section 1902(a)(10)(C) of the Social Security Act only once per calendar year.

(2)(i) The qualified individual gains a dependent or becomes a dependent through marriage, birth, adoption, placement for adoption, or placement in foster care, or through a child support order or other court order.

(ii) the enrollee loses a dependent or is no longer considered a dependent through divorce or legal separation as defined by State law in the State in which the divorce or legal separation occurs, or if the enrollee, or his or her dependent, dies.

(3) The qualified individual, or his or her dependent, becomes newly eligible for enrollment in a qualified health plan because he or she gains citizenship, status as a national, or lawful present or is no longer incarcerated.

(4) The qualified individual's or his or her dependent's, enrollment or non-enrollment in a qualified health plan is unintentional, inadvertent, or erroneous and is the result of the error, misrepresentation, misconduct, or inaction of an officer, employee, or agent of NYSOH, its instrumentalities, or a non-NYSOH entity providing enrollment assistance or conducting enrollment activities.

(5) The enrollee or, his or her dependent adequately demonstrates to NYSOH that the qualified health plan in which he or she is enrolled substantially violated a material provision of its contract in relation to the enrollee;

(6) The enrollee or enrollee's dependent is newly eligible or ineligible for advance payments of the premium tax credit, or change in eligibility for cost-sharing reductions.

(7) The qualified individual or enrollee, or his or her dependent, gains access to new qualified health plan as a result of a permanent move and either—

(i) Had minimum essential coverage for one or more days during the 60 days preceding the date of the permanent move, or

- (ii) Was living outside of the United States or in a United States territory at the time of the permanent move;
- (8) The qualified individual or dependent who gains or maintains status as an Indian may enroll in a qualified health plan or change from one plan to another, once per month.
- (9) The qualified individual or enrollee, or his or her dependent, demonstrates to the Exchange, in accordance with guidelines issued by HHS, that the individual meets other exceptional circumstances as the Exchange may provide;
- (10) A qualified individual or enrollee—
- (i) Is a victim of domestic abuse or spousal abandonment, including a dependent or unmarried victim within a household, is enrolled in minimum essential coverage and seeks to enroll in coverage separate from the perpetrator of the abuse or abandonment; or
 - (ii) Is a dependent of a victim of domestic abuse or spousal abandonment, on the same application as the victim, may enroll in coverage at the same time as the victim;
- (11) A qualified individual or dependent—
- (i) Applies for coverage through NYSOH during the annual open enrollment period or due to a qualifying event, is assessed as potentially eligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus and is determined ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus either after open enrollment has ended or more than 60 days after the qualifying event; or
 - (ii) Applies for coverage at their Local Department of Social Services or Human Resources Administration during the annual open enrollment period, and is determined ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus after open enrollment has ended;
- (12) The qualified individual or enrollee, or his or her dependent, adequately demonstrates to NYSOH that a material error related to plan benefits, service area, or premium influenced the qualified individual's or enrollee's decision to purchase a qualified health plan; or
- (13) At the option of NYSOH, the qualified individual provides satisfactory documentary evidence to verify his or her eligibility for an insurance affordability program or enrollment following termination of enrollment due to a failure to verify such status within 90 days. NYSOH has not elected to adopt this subsection at this time.

(45 CFR § 155.420(d)).

Generally, if a triggering life event occurs, the qualified individual or enrollee has 60 days from the date of a triggering event to select a qualified health plan (45 CFR § 155.420(c)(1)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your domestic partner did not qualify to enroll in a qualified health plan outside of the open enrollment period, effective August 1, 2017.

NYSOH provided an open enrollment period from November 1, 2016 until January 31, 2017. Your domestic partner had her own NYSOH account and had health insurance through that account. She lost her health insurance coverage effective February 28, 2017 because she failed to renew her application within the required timeframe. She then updated her account and was determined eligible for the Essential Plan effective April 1, 2017, but the record reflects that she did not enroll in a plan.

On July 11, 2017, you updated your account and added your domestic partner. Also on July 11, 2017, you submitted an application for health insurance for your domestic partner and attempted to enroll her in a qualified health plan but were unable to do so. On July 12, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice stating that your domestic partner did not qualify to enroll in a qualified health plan outside of the open enrollment period.

Once the annual open enrollment period ends, a health plan enrollee must qualify for a special enrollment period in order to enroll in, or change to another health plan offered in NYSOH. In order to qualify for a special enrollment period, a person must experience a triggering event.

The record reflects that your domestic partner lost her previous insurance coverage through NYSOH on February 28, 2017, because she did not renew her application within the required timeframe.

When a triggering life event occurs, the qualified individual has 60 days from the date of that event to select a qualified health plan. Generally, the loss of insurance coverage is considered a triggering life event.

Since 60 days from February 28, 2017 is April 29, 2017; she would have qualified to select a qualified health plan outside of the open enrollment period until April 29, 2017.

Your application and request to enroll your domestic partner into a qualified health plan did not occur until July 11, 2017, which is outside of the 60-day window. Therefore, she did not qualify for a special enrollment period due to losing her health insurance coverage on February 28, 2017.

The credible evidence of record indicates that, since the open enrollment period closed on January 31, 2017, no other triggering events have occurred that would qualify your domestic partner for a special enrollment period.

Therefore, NYSOH's July 12, 2017 eligibility determination notice that your domestic partner did not qualify to select a health plan outside of the open enrollment period for 2017 is AFFIRMED.
