Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

> Did NYSOH properly determine that you were ineligible for Medicaid as of July 19, 2017?

Procedural History

On July 18, 2017, you submitted an application for financial assistance through NYSOH.

On July 19, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating in part that you were newly eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost, effective August 1, 2017. The notice also stated that you were ineligible for Medicaid because you do not meet the income or other eligibility standard for this program.

On August 8, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and requested an appeal insofar as you were not eligible for Medicaid.

On October 19, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. Testimony was taken during the hearing, and the record was left open until October 23, 2017, to allow you to submit your biweekly paystubs, from both your employers, for the month of July 2017.

You did not submit any additional income documentation to NYSOH Appeals Unit within the allotted time. The record is complete and closed and this Decision si based on the record as developed at the time of hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

1) You testified that your three children were determined eligible for Medicaid and are only appealing your ineligibility for Medicaid.

2) You testified that you want to be determined eligible for Medicaid and want Medicaid to pay for your employer-sponsored insurance (ESI) premiums.

3) You testified that you were enrolled in Medicaid coverage and were receiving Medicaid premium assistance through Orange County Department of Social Services.

4) According to your NYSOH account and testimony, your Medicaid coverage ended as of August 31, 2017.

5) You testified that you expect to file a 2017 federal income tax return with the tax status of married filing separately and expect to claim your three children as dependents on that tax return.

6) According to your July 18, 2017 application, you attested that you receive $268.00 biweekly from the [redacted] and $1,182.18 biweekly from [redacted]. Based on your attestation, your household income was calculated to be $37,704.68.

7) According to your NYSOH account, your average monthly income was the same as your income in the current month.

8) According to your NYSOH account, you reside in [redacted], New York.

9) According to your NYSOH account, you did not expect to claim any deductions on your 2017 federal income tax return.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Modified Adjusted Gross Income

NYSOH bases its eligibility determinations on modified adjusted gross income as defined in the federal tax code (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). The term "modified adjusted gross income" means adjusted gross income increased by (1) any income that was excluded under 26 USC § 911 for United States citizens or residents living abroad, (2) tax-exempt interest received or accrued, and (3) Social Security benefits that were excluded from gross income under 26 USC § 86 (see 26 USC § 36B(d)(2)(B), 26 CFR § 1.36B-1(e)(2)).

"Adjusted gross income" means, in the case of an individual taxpayer, gross federal taxable income minus certain specific deductions, such as expenses reimbursed by an employer, losses from sale or exchange of property, losses from premature withdrawal of finds from time savings accounts, deductions attributable to royalties, and certain retirement savings (26 USC § 62(a)). Living expenses, such as rent and utilities are not an allowable deduction in computing adjusted gross income.

Medicaid

Medicaid can be provided through NYSOH to adults who: (1) are age 19 or older and under age 65, (2) are not pregnant, (3) are not entitled to or enrolled for Medicare benefits under part A or B of title XVIII of the Act, (4) are not otherwise eligible for and enrolled for mandatory coverage under a State's Medicaid State plan in accordance with subpart B of this part, and (5) have a household modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) that is at or below 138% of the FPL for the applicable family size (42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)), NY Social Services Law § 366(1)(b)).

On the date of your application, that was the 2017 FPL, which is $24,600.00 for a four-person household (82 Federal Register 8831).

Financial eligibility for Medicaid for applicants who are not currently receiving Medicaid benefits is based on current monthly household income and family size (42 CFR § 435.603(h)(1); State Plan Amendment (SPA) 13-0055-MM3, as approved March 19, 2014).

Medicaid Premium Reimbursement

When a Medicaid eligible individual has third party health insurance in force, the Medicaid program may determine to pay part or all of the cost of the premiums when payment of the premium is determined to be cost-effective. By paying the premium, the Medicaid program may avoid claims that would otherwise be covered by Medicaid (see NYS Social Services Law § 367-a(1)(b), 18 NYCRR § 360-7.5(g), GIS 15 MA/04).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined you to be ineligible for Medicaid as of July 19, 2017.

On July 18, 2017, you submitted an application for financial assistance through NYSOH. In that application, you attested to an expected annual household income of $37,704.68 and the July 19, 2017 eligibility determination notice relied upon that information.

You testified that you expect to file a 2017 federal income tax return with the tax status of married filing separately and expect to claim your three children as dependents on that tax return. Therefore, you are in a four-person household.

Medicaid can be provided through NYSOH to adults between the ages of 19 and 65 who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is at or below 138% of the FPL for the applicable family size. On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $24,600.00 for a four-person household.

To be eligible for Medicaid, you would need to meet the non-financial criteria and have an income no greater than 138% of the FPL, which is $2,829.00 per month for a four-person household. The record does not indicate that you would not meet the non-financial requirements such that the analysis turns to the financial requirements of Medicaid.

The record reflects that you attested that your average monthly income was the same as your income in the current month. Since your expected yearly income was $37,704.68, your average monthly income was ($37,704.68 / 12 months) $3,142.06. Based on the available information, your monthly income exceeded the Medicaid income threshold.

You testified that you are enrolled in an employer-sponsored health insurance plan and want the Medicaid program to pay for the premiums. An individual may only be eligible for the Medicaid premium assistance program, if they are determined eligible for Medicaid. Therefore, no further analysis is necessary.

The July 19, 2017 eligibility determination properly stated that you were ineligible for Medicaid. Therefore, it is correct and AFFIRMED.
