Decision

Decision Date: November 29, 2017

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000021355

Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you and your spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan was effective July 1, 2017?

Procedural History

On June 30, 2017, you submitted an application for financial assistance with health insurance.

On July 1, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice, stating that you and your spouse were eligible to receive up to $631.00 in advance payments of the premium tax credits, and eligible for cost-sharing reductions if you enrolled into a silver-level qualified health plan, effective August 1, 2017.

Also on July 1, 2017, NYSOH issued an enrollment confirmation notice, stating that you and your spouse were enrolled in a qualified health plan, effective August 1, 2017.

On July 6, 2017, you submitted an updated application for health insurance.

On July 7, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice, stating that you and your spouse were eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost, effective August 1, 2017.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On July 25, 2017, NYSOH issued an enrollment confirmation notice, stating that your and your spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan was effective July 1, 2017.

On August 10, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the enrollment confirmation notice insofar as they began your and your spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan on July 1, 2017, and not August 1, 2017.

On October 17, 2017, you and your spouse had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You submitted an application to NYSOH for financial assistance on July 6, 2017.
- 2) You selected a qualified health plan for you and your spouse on July 6, 2017.
- 3) Your and your spouse's enrollment in the plan became effective August 1, 2017.
- 4) You testified that you requested for your and your spouse's coverage to begin on July 1, 2017, as soon as you were notified regarding the August 1, 2017 start date.
- 5) The record reflects that NYSOH submitted a request to backdate your coverage to July 1, 2017 on June 30, 2017.
- 6) You testified, and the record reflects, that you were not notified that your request for backdating was approved until you received the July 25, 2017 notice stating that your enrollment was effective July 1, 2017. You testified that you received a call from NYSOH at the end of July 2017 advising you that your backdate request had been approved.
- 7) You testified that you requested a cancellation of the backdate as soon as you were notified.
- 8) You testified that you and your spouse were unable to see a doctor in July 2017 because you did not know if you would have coverage.

- 9) You testified that you were required to pay the full premium for July 2017, even though you were unable to use the coverage.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Redetermination During a Benefit Year

When a redetermination is issued as a result of a change in an applicant's information, NYSOH must generally make that redetermination effective on the first day of the month following the date NYSOH is notified of the change (45 CFR § 155.330 (f)(1)(ii)). However, NYSOH may determine that its policy will be that any change made after the 15th of any month will not be effective until the first of the second following month (45 CFR § 155.330(f)(2)).

When an eligibility redetermination results in a change in the amount of advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) for the benefit year, NYSOH must recalculate the amount of APTC in such a manner as to account for any advance payments already made on behalf of the tax filer, such that the recalculated advance payment amount is projected to result in total advance payments for the benefit year that correspond to the tax filer's total projected premium tax credit for that benefit year (45 CFR § 155.330(g)).

Enrollment in a Qualified Health Plan

The effective date of coverage by a qualified health plan is determined by the date on which an applicant selects a plan for enrollment. For individuals who are eligible for enrollment, NYSOH must generally ensure that coverage is effective the first day of the following month for selections received by NYSOH from the first to the fifteenth of any month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(i)). For selections received by NYSOH from the sixteenth to the last day of any month, NYSOH must ensure coverage is effective the first day of the second following month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(ii)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your and spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan was effective July 1, 2017.

On July 6, 2017, you updated the information in your NYSOH account and submitted a request to enroll in a qualified health plan. On July 7, 2017, NYSOH issued an enrollment confirmation notice stating that you and your spouse were enrolled in a qualified health plan, effective August 1, 2017.

You testified that when you became aware of the August 1, 2017 start date, you requested that NYSOH backdate your and your spouse's qualified health plan to July 1, 2017 in order to avoid a gap in coverage.

You testified that you received a call from NYSOH a few days before the end of July 2017 advising you that you and your spouse had been granted a backdate of coverage in your qualified health plan for the month of July 2017. You testified that you were notified by NYSOH of the backdate too late for you or your spouse to have any use of the July 2017 health insurance coverage. You also testified that you were billed for the July 2017 premium, which you paid.

A review of the complete record confirms that NYSOH did not timely make a determination regarding your request for a backdate and/or that you were not timely notified of the back date of your qualified health plan to July 1, 2017, which deprived you of any significant value in having coverage for July 2017 retroactively applied. Given how late in the month this determination was made, NYSOH should have offered you the opportunity to decline the back date before putting it in effect.

Therefore, the July 25, 2017 enrollment confirmation notice is RESCINDED and your case is RETURNED to NYSOH to reinstate the start date of your and your spouse's qualified health plan to August 1, 2017.
