Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you were eligible for the Essential Plan, with a $20 per month premium?

Procedural History

On June 26, 2017, you submitted an updated application for financial assistance.

On June 27, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with no monthly premiums for a limited time, effective July 1, 2017. The notice stated that you needed to submit proof of household income by September 24, 2017.

Also on June 27, 2017, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming your enrollment in an Essential Plan 4 with no monthly premium and a plan start date of July 1, 2017.

On July 6, 2017, you uploaded to your NYSOH account household income documentation (see Documents [REDACTED]).

On July 6, 2017, NYSOH validated the income documentation you submitted and your household income was updated. NYSOH ran your eligibility for financial assistance at that time based on the updated household income of $27,040.00.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On July 7, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, low co-pays for certain services and no annual deductible, effective August 1, 2017.

Also on July 7, 2017, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming your selection of your Essential Plan 1, with a $20.00 monthly premium and a plan enrollment start date of August 1, 2017.

On August 11, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed your eligibility for the Essential Plan with a premium of $20.00 per month stating that you could not afford the co-payments.

On October 26, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you expect to file your 2017 taxes with a tax filing status of married filing jointly. You will claim no dependents on that tax return.
- 2) You are seeking insurance for yourself.
- 3) On July 6, 2017, you uploaded to your NYSOH account proof of income documents consisting of a letter signed by you stating that you do not work and two bi-weekly pay statements for your spouse.
- 4) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, your spouse has steady employment, works 40 hours a week and is paid $13.00 per hour.
- 5) You testified that the annual income of $27,040.00 for your spouse listed in the updated July 6, 2017 application is correct.
- 6) You testified that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 7) Your application states that you live in [REDACTED], New York.
- 8) You testified that you have several ongoing medical issues that require frequent tests and visits to the doctor. You testified that you cannot afford the co-payments that are required on all these visits.

- 9) You testified that you would like to be considered for the Essential Plan with a $0.00 monthly premium and no co-pays.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two-person household (81 Fed. Reg. 4036).

A person who has a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL has a $0.00 premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 21, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

A person who has a household income greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL has a $20.00 per month premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, as approved January 2016).

The Essential Plan is considered minimum essential coverage therefore, a person who is eligible for the Essential Plan is not eligible for any premium tax credit because they are eligible for minimum essential coverage through the individual market (see 26 CFR § 1.36B-2(c)(1), 26 USC § 5000A(f)(1)(C)).

Modified Adjusted Gross Income

NYSOH bases its eligibility determinations on modified adjusted gross income as defined in the federal tax code (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). The term "modified adjusted gross income” means adjusted gross income increased by (1) any income that was excluded under 26 USC § 911 for United States citizens or residents living abroad, (2) tax-exempt interest received or accrued, and (3) Social Security benefits that were excluded from gross income under 26 USC § 86 (see 26 USC § 36B(d)(2)(B), 26 CFR § 1.36B-1(e)(2)).

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

“Adjusted gross income” means, in the case of an individual taxpayer, gross federal taxable income minus certain specific deductions, such as expenses reimbursed by an employer, losses from sale or exchange of property, losses from premature withdrawal of funds from time savings accounts, deductions attributable to royalties, and certain retirement savings (26 USC § 62(a)). Living expenses, such as rent and utilities are not an allowable deduction in computing adjusted gross income.

Medical expenses and dental expenses may be itemized on a Form 1040 Schedule A; however, these expenses are not used to compute adjusted gross income (26 USC § 213(a); Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Publication 502 (2016)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for the Essential Plan, with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective August 1, 2017.

You and your spouse expect to file your 2017 tax return as married filing jointly and will claim no dependents on that return. Therefore, you are in a two-person household for purposes of this analysis.

On July 6, 2017, NYSOH recalculated your household modified adjusted gross income based on the documentation you submitted. NYSOH recalculated your spouse’s annual expected income to $27,040.00 (40 hours per week X $13.00 per hour X 52 weeks).

The application that was submitted on your behalf on July 6, 2017 listed annual household income of $27,040.00 and NYSOH relied on that information in making the eligibility determination.

During the hearing, you stated that you have several ongoing medical issues that require frequent visits to different doctors, as well as numerous medical tests to monitor your conditions. You testified that you cannot afford the co-payments that are required for these multiple visits and test and want those costs to be considered in your eligibility determination.

However, the Internal Revenue Service rules do not allow living expenses to be deducted from the calculation of your adjusted gross income. Furthermore, although medical and dental expenses may be itemized on your tax return, the Internal Revenue Service rules do not allow medical expenses to be deducted from the calculation of your adjusted gross income. As such, these expenses cannot be considered or deducted when NYSOH computes your household's modified adjusted gross income for the purpose of determining your eligibility for financial assistance with health insurance. Therefore, NYSOH correctly determined your household income to be $27,040.00.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size. Applicants with a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL have a $0.00 premium contribution and applicants with a household income that is greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL have a $20.00 per month premium contribution.

On the date of the updated July 6, 2017 application, the relevant FPL was $16,020.00 for a two-person household. Since an annual household income of $27,040.00 is 168.79% of the 2016 FPL, NYSOH properly found you to be eligible for the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium.

Since the July 7, 2017 eligibility determination notice properly stated that you were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan with a $20.00 monthly premium, effective August 1, 2017, it is correct and is AFFIRMED.
