Decision

Decision Date: October 23, 2017

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000021417

Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health properly determine that your two children remained eligible for Medicaid, effective August 1, 2017?

Procedural History

According to your NYSOH account, you and your two children were determined eligible for Medicaid, effective March 1, 2017, and were enrolled into a Medicaid Managed Care plan as of that date.

On August 14, 2017, you updated your NYSOH application and you and your two children were redetermined eligible to remain in Medicaid, effective August 1, 2017.

Also on August 14, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed your children's eligibility for Medicaid requesting that they be redetermined eligible for Child Health Plus.

On August 15, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you and your children remained eligible for Medicaid, effective August 1, 2017.

On August 15, 2017, NYSOH issued a plan enrollment notice confirming that you and your two children were enrolled in a Medicaid Managed Care plan, effective March 1, 2017.

On October 19, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) According to your NYSOH account and testimony, you expect to file your 2017 taxes with a tax filing status of Head of Household (with Qualifying Individuals). You will claim your two children as dependents on that tax return.
- 2) You testified that you would like your child to be eligible for Child Health Plus and not Medicaid, so that they can see [REDACTED] medical specialists for their medical conditions.
- 3) The application that was submitted on March 22, 2017, listed that you had no annual household income. You testified this was accurate at the time because you were not working.
- 4) The application that was submitted on August 14, 2017 listed that from August 1, 2017 through December 31, 2017, your projected annual income would be $6,150.00, consisting of earnings from your employment. You testified that this amount was correct as you began working in August 2017.
- 5) Both of your applications state that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 6) Your application states that you and your children live in [REDACTED], New York.
- 7) At the time of the application, your children were between the ages of one and younger than nineteen.
- 8) You testified that your children's specialists do not participate in Medicaid and are not willing to accept out-of-network payment from your Medicaid Managed Care plan.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Medicaid for Children

A child who is at least one year of age but younger than nineteen is eligible for Medicaid if he or she meets the non-financial criteria and has a household modified adjusted gross income that falls at or below 154% of the federal poverty level (FPL) for the applicable family size (42 CFR § 435.118(c); New York State Department of Social Services Administrative Directive 13 OHIP/ADM-03).

In the case of an individual who expects to file a tax return and does not expect to be claimed by another taxpayer, the household consists of the taxpayer and all persons whom such individual expects to claim as a tax dependent (42 CFR § 435.603(f)(1)).

Medicaid-eligible children under the age of 19 are provided with 12 months of continuous coverage, even if the household's income increases above eligibility levels during that period (N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law § 366(4)(b)(3)(i)). This twelve-month period is referred to as “continuous coverage.”

Child Health Plus

A child who meets the eligibility requirements for Child Health Plus (CHP) may be eligible to receive a subsidy payment if the child resides in a household with a household income at or below 400% of the federal poverty level (FPL) (New York Public Health Law (PHL) § 2511(2)(a)(iii)). To be eligible to enroll in CHP with subsidy payments, a child must not be “eligible for medical assistance”; that is, must not be eligible for Medicaid (NY Public Health Law § 2511(2)(b)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your children remained eligible for Medicaid, effective August 1, 2017.

According to the record, you expect to file your 2017 tax return as Head of Household (with Qualifying Individuals) and will claim your two children as dependents. Therefore, your children are in a three-person household.

On your March 22, 2017 application, you attested to having no expected household income and credibly testified that you were not working at the time.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

The application also stated that your children were older than one year of age and younger than nineteen. NYSOH relied upon this information.

Medicaid can be provided through NYSOH to children between the ages of one and nineteen who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) that is at or below 154% of the FPL for the applicable family size. Since no income is 0% of the 2017 FPL for a three-person household, NYSOH properly found your children to be eligible for Medicaid.

You testified that at the time of your August 14, 2017 updated application, you were receiving income from your employment. This update increased your annual household income to $6,150.00, which amount was still below the Medicaid limit.

In addition, under New York State law, once a child is eligible for Medicaid, that eligibility continues for 12 months, even if the household income rises above 154% of the FPL, which it did not in your case. This provision is called “continuous coverage.”

Credible evidence confirms that your children were eligible for Medicaid effective March 1, 2017, and even though your annual income increased when you modified your application on August 14, 2017, your children remained enrolled in Medicaid for the remainder of their 12-month eligibility period; that is, until February 28, 2018.

You testified that you want your children enrolled in health coverage through Child Health Plus and not Medicaid, so they can be treated by specialists for their medical conditions. However, under New York State’s Public Health Law, a Medicaid-eligible child does not qualify to enroll in health insurance through Child Health Plus.

Therefore, the August 15, 2017 eligibility determination stating that your children remained eligible for Medicaid is correct and is AFFIRMED.

Decision

The August 15, 2017 eligibility determination notice is AFFIRMED.
