Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you and your spouse were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan, effective August 1, 2017, and not eligible for Medicaid?

Procedural History

On July 24, 2017, NYSOH received your update application for health insurance.

On July 25, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you and your spouse were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan for a limited period of time with no monthly premium, effective August 1, 2017. The notice further stated that you and your spouse qualified for the Essential Plan because your household income was less than the allowable income limit and you were in the first five years of your qualified immigration status or you were living in the United States under the color of law. The notice stated that you needed to submit proof of income by October 22, 2017.

On August 18, 2017, you contacted NYSOH's Account Review Unit and requested an appeal of that eligibility determination insofar as it stated that you and your spouse were not eligible for Medicaid.

On November 6, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. During the hearing, [REDACTED] interpreters [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

██████ interpreted. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You are seeking health insurance for yourself and your spouse.
- 2) Your July 24, 2017 application states that you and your spouse will not be filing taxes.
- 3) You testified that you and your spouse both have I-551 permanent resident cards.
- 4) Your NYSOH application indicates that you and your spouse fall under the non-citizen category code of "IR5," which means you and your spouse are parents of a U.S. Citizen who is at least 21 years old.
- 5) According to your NYSOH account and your testimony, you entered the United States on ██████████ 2013, and your spouse entered the United States on ██████████ 2014.
- 6) The application that was submitted on July 24, 2017, in which you requested financial assistance, listed annual household income of $0.00.
- 7) You testified that both you and your spouse are unable to work due to ██████████ and that your adult child, with whom you and your spouse live, provides care and support.
- 8) You testified that you and your spouse need home care services but this type of care is not provided by the Essential Plan.
- 9) You testified that you want you and your spouse to be covered by Medicaid so you can receive home care.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL) or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application, that was the 2016 FPL, which is $16,020.00 for a two-person household (81 Federal Register 4036).

A person who has a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL has a $0.00 premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 21, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>).

Medicaid

A person who meets certain nonfinancial criteria and has a household income that is at or below the applicable Medicaid income standard is eligible for Medicaid benefits (45 CFR § 155.305(c)). One of the non-financial criteria for Medicaid eligibility is the immigration status of the person applying for health insurance. A person is eligible for Medicaid when his or her immigration status is satisfactory and he or she meets all other requirements for Medicaid (42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)), NY Social Services Law § 366(1)(b)).

In an analysis of Medicaid eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL "for the applicable budget period used to determine an individual's eligibility" (42 CFR § 435.4). On the date of your application, that was the 2017 FPL, which is $16,240.00 for a two-person household (82 Fed. Reg. 8831).

Qualified Immigrants

In NY State, qualified immigrants who were formerly eligible for Medicaid through the state, but not eligible for Medicaid under federal law, were transitioned to the Essential Plan as of January 1, 2016 (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 19, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/basic-health-program.html>). This category of qualified immigrants includes individuals lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States who are still in their first five years of permanent residency. (18 NYCRR § 349.3, 8 USC § 1613).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you and your spouse were eligible to enroll in the Essential Plan, effective August 1, 2017, and not eligible for Medicaid.

The application that was submitted on July 24, 2017 listed an annual household income of $0.00 and the eligibility determination relied upon that information.

According to your July 24, 2017 application and your testimony, you are in a two-person household and you do not expect to file a 2017 income tax return.

The Essential Plan is provided through NYSOH to individuals who are lawfully present non-citizens who are ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, and have a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL. Medicaid can be provided through NYSOH to adults between the ages of 19 and 65 who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is at or below 138% of the FPL for the applicable family size.

On the date of your July 24, 2017 application, the relevant 2016 FPL was $16,020.00 and the relevant 2017 FPL was $16,240.00 for a two-person household. Since an annual income of $0.00 is 0.00% of the 2016 FPL and 0.00% of the 2017 FPL, you and your spouse meet the financial eligibility criteria for both the Essential Plan and Medicaid.

However, you testified that you and your spouse are permanent residents. You testified and the record reflects that you entered the U.S. on [REDACTED], 2013 and your spouse entered the U.S. on [REDACTED] 2014. You testified that you live with your adult child who is a U.S. citizen and she provides all your care and support. According to your NYSOH account, you and your spouse fall under the non-citizen category code "IR5" which means you are parent of a U.S. Citizen who is at least 21 years old. The record reflects that as of July 24, 2017, you and your spouse have been in the U.S. and have had permanent resident status for less than four years.

As of January 1, 2016, legal permanent residents who were receiving Medicaid through NY State, but were not eligible for Medicaid under federal law due to being in the first five years of their permanent residency, must now receive coverage through the Essential Plan. Therefore, because you and your spouse are in your first five years of permanent residency, NYSOH properly determined that you and your spouse did not meet the non-financial requirements for Medicaid.

Since you and your spouse meet the non-financial and financial requirements for the Essential Plan, NYSOH properly determined you and your spouse to be eligible for Essential Plan coverage.

Therefore, the July 25, 2017 eligibility determination notice properly stated that, based on the information you provided, you and your spouse were eligible for the Essential Plan for a limited time pending proof of income, effective August 1, 2017, and is AFFIRMED.
