Decision

Decision Date: November 29, 2017

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000022797

Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that your family's enrollment in a qualified health plan and the application of advance payments of the premium tax credit were effective no earlier than October 1, 2017?

Procedural History

On September 7, 2017, NYSOH received an update to your application for health insurance.

On September 8, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility redetermination stating that you, your spouse, and your child eligible to receive an advance premium tax credit (APTC) of up to $1,046.00 per month and, if you selected a silver-level qualified health plan, eligible for cost-sharing reductions (CSR). This eligibility was effective October 1, 2017.

On September 26, 2017, NYSOH issued a letter confirming your family's enrollment in a qualified health plan (QHP) with a monthly premium responsibility of $300.57, after your APTC of $1,046.00 was applied, both effective November 1, 2017.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On or about September 29, 2017, NYSOH approved your request to backdate your family's QHP coverage start date, and application of APTC, to October 1, 2017.

Also on October 8, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the eligibility determination and enrollment confirmation notices insofar as they began your family's financial assistance eligibility and enrollment in a QHP on October 1, 2017, and not September 1, 2017.

On November 16, 2017, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record support the following findings of fact:

- 1) You and your spouse's Medicaid coverage ended effective August 31, 2017.
- 2) You submitted an update to your NYSOH application for financial assistance on September 7, 2017.
- 3) Your spouse testified that you did not update your account until September 7, 2017 due to [REDACTED].
- 4) Your spouse testified that when you met with a Healthfirst representative, you attempted to select a health plan on September 7, 2017, but were unable to do so because of an apparent system malfunction.
- 5) Your spouse testified that you followed up with NYSOH representative several additional times to select a health plan during early to mid-September 2017, but were still unable to do so.
- 6) Your spouse testified, and the record reflects, that you first were able to select a QHP on September 25, 2017.
- 7) Your family's enrollment in the plan, and your eligibility to receive APTC, became effective November 1, 2017.
- 8) On September 29, 2017, NYSOH approved your request to backdate your family's QHP coverage start date, and application of APTC, to October 1, 2017.

- 9) Your spouse testified that you need your family's QHP and APTC to begin on September 1, 2017 because you had incurred approximately $600.00 in [REDACTED] during the month of September 2017.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Redetermination During a Benefit Year

When a redetermination is issued because of a change in an applicant's information, NYSOH must generally make that redetermination effective on the first day of the month following the date NYSOH is notified of the change (45 CFR § 155.330 (f)(1)(ii)). However, NYSOH may determine that its policy will be that any change made after the 15th of any month will not be effective until the first of the second following month (45 CFR § 155.330(f)(2)).

When an eligibility redetermination results in a change in the amount of advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) for the benefit year, NYSOH must recalculate the amount of APTC in such a manner as to account for any advance payments already made on behalf of the tax filer, such that the recalculated advance payment amount is projected to result in total advance payments for the benefit year that correspond to the tax filer's total projected premium tax credit for that benefit year (45 CFR § 155.330(g)).

Enrollment in a Qualified Health Plan

The effective date of coverage by a qualified health plan is determined by the date on which an applicant selects a plan for enrollment. For individuals who are eligible for enrollment, NYSOH must generally ensure that coverage is effective the first day of the following month for selections received by NYSOH from the first to the fifteenth of any month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(i)). For selections received by NYSOH from the sixteenth to the last day of any month, NYSOH must ensure coverage is effective the first day of the second following month (45 CFR §§ 155.410(f)(2), 155.420(b)(1)(ii)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your family's enrollment in a QHP, as well as the application of APTC, was effective no earlier than October 1, 2017.

The record shows that on September 7, 2017, you updated the information in your NYSOH account. However, you did not submit a request to enroll in a QHP until September 25, 2017. On September 26, 2017 NYSOH issued an enrollment notice stating that your family's enrollment in their QHP was effective November 1, 2017 and that APTC would be applied to the monthly premium effective November 1, 2017.

The record also reflects that your request to NYSOH to backdate your family's QHP coverage, and application of APTC, to October 1, 2017 had been approved on or about September 29, 2017. Your spouse testified, however, that you were seeking for your family's QHP coverage and the application of APTC to begin no later than September 1, 2017.

Your spouse testified that you were delayed in updating your NYSOH account and attempting to select a QHP for your family until September 7, 2017 due to [REDACTED]

When an individual changes information in their application on or before the 15th of any month, NYSOH must make the redetermination that results from the change effective the first day of the following month. Additionally, the date on which a QHP can take effect depends on the day a person selects the plan for enrollment. A plan that is selected from the first day to and including fifteenth day of a month goes into effect on the first day of the following month. There is no exception that exists to these enrollment rules based upon family emergency or exigent circumstances.

The fact that a defect in NYSOH's system prevented you from selecting a plan on September 7, 2017 is irrelevant; NYSOH has already backdated the start of your coverage to October 1, 2017, the date any coverage would have been effective had it been selected on September 7, 2017.

Therefore, NYSOH's September 8, 2017 eligibility determination notice and September 26, 2017 enrollment notice, as modified by NYSOH's approval of your QHP coverage, and APTC application, backdate request to October 1, 2017, are AFFIRMED.

Decision

NYSOH's September 8, 2017 eligibility determination notice and September 26, 2017 enrollment notice, as modified by NYSOH's approval of your QHP coverage, and APTC application, backdate request to October 1, 2017, are AFFIRMED.

Effective Date of this Decision: November 29, 2017
