Decision

Decision Date: March 9, 2018

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000025802

Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine you were eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost and ineligible for advanced payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) and cost-sharing reductions, effective January 1, 2018?

Procedural History

On December 14, 2017, an updated application for financial assistance with health insurance was submitted on your behalf to NYSOH. That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared stating you were eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost.

Also on December 14, 2017, you contacted NYSOH's Account Review Unit and requested an appeal of the preliminary eligibility determination insofar as you were not eligible for financial assistance.

On December 15, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination stating you were eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost through NYSOH, effective January 1, 2018. The notice indicated that you were not eligible to receive APTC or cost-sharing reductions, because NYSOH was missing information about your taxes. Specifically, the notice stated that you either indicated you would not file a federal tax return, or you were married and would be filing taxes separately from your spouse, or APTC was paid to your health insurance company to reduce your premium costs in a prior year and NYSOH could not determine whether a tax return was filed.

On December 30, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice stating that effective January 1, 2018, you were eligible for APTC with cost-sharing reductions for a limited time, because you had been granted Aid to Continue until a decision was made on your appeal. You were subsequently reenrolled into a qualified health plan with APTC applied, effective January 1, 2018.

On February 15, 2018, you uploaded, to your NYSOH account, a copy of your 2016 tax return transcript from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

On February 16, 2018, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed thereafter.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you are seeking APTC for yourself for 2018.
- 2) You testified, and your account confirms, you received APTC in 2016 and 2017.
- 3) On December 14, 2017, you submitted an updated application for financial assistance with health coverage for the 2018 coverage year.
- 4) That application listed your annual expected income for 2018 as $24,700.00 and indicated your marital status was single and you would file your 2017 tax return with a tax filing status of single. You testified that information was accurate.
- 5) According to your account, NYSOH determined you were ineligible for APTC or cost-sharing reductions, because it could not confirm with federal data sources that you had filed your 2016 tax return and reconciled the tax credits received in that year.
- 6) You appealed that determination insofar as you were not eligible for APTC.
- 7) You were granted aid to continue pending the decision in your appeal and you were enrolled in a qualified health plan with APTC applied, effective January 1, 2018.

- 8) You testified that you filed a tax return for the 2016 tax year, but that you filed it late. You testified that you did not receive an extension to file your tax return late.
- 9) You testified that your APTC was reconciled on your 2016 tax return.
- 10) On February 15, 2018, you uploaded a copy of a tax return transcript for 2016 from the IRA. That transcript confirmed that your 2016 tax return had been filed on November 13, 2017. That transcript contained a reference to form 8962, reconciling the tax credits received in 2016.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Verification of Eligibility for Advance Payments of the Premium Tax Credit

Generally, NYSOH must conduct annual eligibility redeterminations for qualified individuals who are seeking financial assistance through insurance affordability programs for the upcoming year, such as tax credits and cost-sharing reductions, Medicaid, or Child Health Plus. In such cases, NYSOH is required to request that the qualified individual provide updated income and family size information for use in an eligibility redetermination for the upcoming year (see 45 CFR § 155.335(a) and (b)).

APTC are generally available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a qualified health plan, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

People who use APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income (stated on NYSOH application) with their actual income (stated on their federal income tax return). Those who take less tax credit in advance than they claim on the tax return may get the rest of it as an income tax refund or have their tax bill reduced. Those who take more tax credit in advance than they can claim on their tax return will owe the difference as additional income taxes (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

NYSOH may not determine a tax filer eligible for APTC if APTC was paid on the tax filer's behalf in a previous year, and a tax return was not filed for that previous year (45 CFR §155.305(f)(4)).

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

For all individuals whose household income is needed, NYSOH must request tax return data from the Secretary of the Treasury and data regarding Social Security benefits from the Commissioner of Social Security in order to confirm that the information the applicant is attesting to is accurate (45 CFR § 155.320(c)(1)(i); 45 CFR § 155.320(c)(3)(ii)(A)).

Cost-Sharing Reductions

Cost-sharing reductions (CSR) are available to a person who (1) is eligible to enroll in a QHP through NYSOH, (2) meets the requirements to receive APTC, (3) is expected to have an annual household income that does not exceed 250% of the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested, and (4) is enrolled in a silver-level QHP (45 CFR § 155.300(a), 45 CFR § 155.305(g)(1)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined you were eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost and not eligible for APTC or cost-sharing reductions, effective January 1, 2018.

On December 14, 2017, you submitted an updated application for financial assistance with health coverage for the 2018 coverage year. That application listed your annual expected income for 2018 as $24,700.00 and indicated your marital status was single and you would file your 2017 tax return with a tax filing status of single. You testified that information was accurate. According to your account, NYSOH determined you ineligible for APTC or cost-sharing reductions, because it could not confirm with federal data sources that you had filed your 2016 tax return and reconciled the tax credits received in that year. You appealed that determination insofar as you were not eligible for APTC.

Pursuant to the above cited regulations, applicants who use APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income as stated on their NYSOH application, with their actual income as stated on their federal income tax return.

You testified, and your account confirms that you received APTC in 2016. Although you testified that you filed a tax return for the 2016 tax year and reconciled your APTC on that return, you testified that you filed that return late. According to your account, at the time you submitted your December 14, 2017 updated application, NYSOH was unable to verify with federal data bases that your 2016 return had been filed.

However, on February 15, 2018 you uploaded a copy of a tax return transcript for 2016 from the IRS. That transcript confirmed that your 2016 tax return had been filed on November 13, 2017. That transcript also contained form 8962 establishing that the tax credits you received in 2016 had been reconciled on that return. It is concluded that this documentation confirms you filed a tax return in 2016 and reconciled your APTC received in that year.

Therefore, the December 15, 2017 eligibility determination notice stating you were ineligible for APTC, because NYSOH was missing tax information is no longer supported by the record and is RESCINDED.

Your case is RETURNED to NYSOH to redetermine your eligibility for financial assistance, effective January 1, 2018, based on the information in your December 14, 2017 application, and the record establishing that you filed a tax return for the 2016 tax year and reconciled the tax credits received in that year on the return.

Decision
