Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you were not eligible for Medicaid for November 1, 2017 through November 30, 2017?

Procedural History

On December 6, 2017, you submitted an application for financial assistance with health insurance and indicated that you were seeking help for paying for medical bills for September 2017, October 2017, and November 2017.

Also on December 6, 2017, you uploaded income documentation to your NYSOH account.

On December 7, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice stating that the income information in your application did not match what NYSOH had received from state and federal data sources and that additional information was needed to determine your eligibility for financial assistance. This notice directed you to submit proof of your income by December 21, 2017.

Also on December 7, 2017, NYSOH verified the income documentation you submitted and submitted two applications on your behalf. That day, NYSOH issued a preliminary eligibility determination with regard to that first application stating that you were eligible for Medicaid, effective December 1, 2017, and that you qualified for Medicaid for September 2017 and October 2017.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On December 8, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility determination, based on the second application submitted on December 7, 2017 stating that you would remain eligible for Medicaid, effective January 1, 2018.

Also on December 8, 2017, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you were not eligible for Medicaid for November 1, 2017 through November 30, 2017 because your monthly household income of $1,912.50 is over the allowable monthly income limit of $1,387.00.

On December 14, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed that eligibility determination notice insofar as it denied retroactive Medicaid for the month of November 2017.

On February 16, 2018, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you are seeking Medicaid from November 1, 2017 to November 30, 2017.
- 2) You testified that you expect to file your 2017 federal income tax return as single, and claim no dependents.
- 3) You submitted an application for financial assistance on December 6, 2017.
- 4) Your application submitted on December 6, 2017, states that for the month of November 2017 your income was $706.48.
- 5) You testified that you last worked on October 20, 2017 and that you have applied for, and are receiving, short term disability benefits.
- 6) You testified that in your job, you were paid at the beginning of the month, so you had already received your October 2017 pay when you went out of work. You further testified that you did not receive any pay from your employer in November 2017.
- 7) You testified that your only source of income in November 2017 was your short term disability. You explained that your short term disability checks do not come on a regular biweekly schedule, and that the checks are sometimes dated three weeks apart, although you are eventually paid the correct amount you are owed.

- 8) You uploaded two short term disability paystubs to your NYSOH account; the first is for check date November 10, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $765.00; the second is for check date November 30, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $1,147.50.
- 9) You testified that you did not receive the check dated November 30, 2017 until December 4, 2017 or December 5, 2017.
- 10) You testified that you do not plan on taking any deductions on your 2017 tax return.
- 11) You testified that you reside in Queens County.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Medicaid for Adults between the Ages of 19 and 65

Medicaid can be provided through NYSOH to adults who: (1) are age 19 or older and under age 65, (2) are not pregnant, (3) are not entitled to or enrolled for Medicare benefits under part A or B of title XVIII of the Act, (4) are not otherwise eligible for and enrolled for mandatory coverage under a State's Medicaid State plan in accordance with subpart B of this part, and (5) have a household modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) that is at or below 138% of the FPL for the applicable family size (42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)), NY Social Services Law § 366(1)(b)).

In an analysis of Medicaid eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL "for the applicable budget period used to determine an individual's eligibility" (42 CFR § 435.4). On the date of your application, that was the 2017 FPL, which is $12,060.00 for a one-person household (82 Fed. Reg. 8831).

Retroactive Medicaid

The Department of Health must make Medicaid coverage start retroactively for up to three months prior to the month of an initial application if the individual received medical services that would have been covered under Medicaid and the individual would have been eligible for Medicaid at the time he received the services if he had applied (42 USCA § 1396A(34); 42 CFR § 435.915(a)). The Department of Health may make eligibility effective for fee-for-service Medicaid on the first day of the month if an individual was eligible any time during that month (42 CFR § 435.915(b)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were not eligible for Medicaid for November 1, 2017 through November 30, 2017.

You file your taxes with a tax filing status of single and claim no dependents on your tax return. Therefore, you are in a one-person household.

You submitted an application for financial assistance on December 6, 2017 and requested help in paying for medical bills for September 2017, October 2017, and November 2017.

When an individual files an initial application for Medicaid, his or her eligibility for retroactive Medicaid depends on the date of application. To this end, it does not matter whether or not that initial application resulted in Medicaid going forward. Instead, an individual, who has filed an initial application for Medicaid through NYSOH, has the right to be evaluated for Medicaid for the three months before the month of his or her application.

Medicaid coverage can be made effective retroactively for up to three months prior to an individual's initial application if the individual received medical services that would have been covered under Medicaid and if they would have been eligible for Medicaid in those three months had they applied.

You testified that you are seeking Medicaid from November 1, 2017 to November 30, 2017.

Financial eligibility for Medicaid for applicants who are not currently receiving Medicaid benefits is based on current monthly household income and family size. To be eligible for Medicaid in November 2017, you would have needed to meet the non-financial criteria and have an income no greater than 138% of the FPL, which is $1,387.00 per month. There is no indication in the record that you would have been ineligible for Medicaid based on non-financial criteria during November 2017.

You testified that you are not working and are receiving short term disability payments. You uploaded a paystub dated November 10, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $765.00 and a paystub dated November 30, 2017 for a gross pay amount of $1,147.50. Therefore, the record indicates that in the month of November 2017, you had a monthly household income of $1,912.00.

Since your income of $1,912.00 was more than the $1,387.00 monthly Medicaid limit for November 2017, NYSOH properly determined that you were not eligible for Medicaid coverage during that month. Therefore, the December 8, 2017 eligibility determination stating that you were not eligible for Medicaid in the month of November 2017, is correct and is AFFIRMED.
