Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you and your spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan, was effective February 1, 2018?

Procedural History

On October 24, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice that it was time to renew your health insurance for the upcoming coverage year. That notice stated that, based on information from federal and state sources, NYSOH could not determine whether you and your spouse would qualify for financial help paying for your health coverage, and that you needed to update your account by December 15, 2017 or you and your spouse might lose the health coverage you were currently receiving.

On November 22, 2017, NYSOH issued a disenrollment notice stating that you and your spouse's qualified health plan coverage was ending effective December 31, 2017. The notice stated that this was because you and your spouse were no longer eligible for enrollment in your qualified health plan.

No updates were made to your account by December 15, 2017.

On January 3, 2018, NYSOH received your updated application for health insurance. That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

regarding that application, stating that you and your spouse's qualified health plan had an effective start date of February 1, 2018.

Also on January 3, 2018, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed the determination insofar as it began you and your spouse's qualified health plan on February 1, 2018 and not January 1, 2018.

On January 4, 2018, NYSOH issued a notice of eligibility redetermination stating that you and your spouse were eligible for a full cost qualified health plan, effective February 1, 2018.

Also on January 4, 2018, NYSOH issued a letter confirming you and your spouse's enrollment in a full cost qualified health plan, effective February 1, 2018.

On March 20, 2018, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record support the following findings of fact:

- 1) Your NYSOH account indicates that you receive notices from NYSOH by regular mail.
- 2) You testified that you did receive the renewal notice from NYSOH telling you that you needed to update the information in your NYSOH account to ensure that you and your spouse's coverage would not be interrupted.
- 3) No notices sent to you at the address listed on your NYSOH account have been returned as undeliverable.
- 4) You testified that you were travelling for work and that you did not timely read the renewal notice.
- 5) You testified that you did not update your NYSOH account by December 15, 2017.
- 6) You and your spouse were disenrolled from your qualified health plan, effective December 31, 2017.
- 7) You testified that you updated the information in your NYSOH account on January 3, 2018. That day you also enrolled you and your spouse into a qualified health plan with an effective start date of February 1, 2018.

- 8) You testified that you would like your qualified health plan to start on January 1, 2018 because you have medical bills from January 2018.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Annual Eligibility Redetermination

Generally, NYSOH must conduct annual eligibility redeterminations for qualified individuals who are seeking financial assistance through insurance affordability programs for the upcoming year, such as tax credits and cost-sharing reductions, Medicaid, or Child Health Plus. In such cases, NYSOH is required to request that the qualified individual provide updated income and family size information for use in an eligibility redetermination for the upcoming year (see 45 CFR § 155.335(a) and (b)).

NYSOH must send an annual renewal notice that contains the information by which NYSOH will use to redetermine a qualified individual's projected eligibility for that year (45 CFR § 155.335(c)(3)). If a qualified individual does not respond to the notice after a 30-day period, NYSOH must redetermine that individual's eligibility using the information and projected eligibility provided in the annual renewal notice (45 CFR § 155.335(g), (h)). NYSOH must ensure this redetermination is effective on the first day of the coverage year or in accordance with the rules specified in 45 CFR § 155.330(f) regarding effective dates, whichever is later (45 CFR § 155.335(i)). The rules specified in 45 CFR § 155.330(f) are not pertinent here.

Redetermination During a Benefit Year

When an eligibility redetermination results in a change in the amount of APTC for a part of the benefit year, NYSOH must recalculate the amount of APTC in such a manner as to account for any advance payments already made (or not made) on behalf of the tax filer, such that the recalculated advance payment amount is projected to result in total advance payments for the benefit year that correspond to the tax filer's total projected premium tax credit for the overall benefit year (45 CFR § 155.330(g)).

Any change resulting from redeterminations during a benefit year should be made effective the first day of the month following the date of the notice of redetermination, except that redeterminations resulting from changes made after a date specified by the state, which can be no earlier than the 15th of the month, may not be made effective until the first day of the month after the month following the date of the notice of redetermination. (45 CFR § 155.330(f)(1) and (2)). New York has specified that changes made after the 15th of a given month will take effect the month after the following month.

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you and your spouse's enrollment in a qualified health plan was effective February 1, 2018.

NYSOH must redetermine a qualified individual's eligibility for health insurance and financial assistance to help pay for that health insurance annually. NYSOH must issue a renewal notice that contains the individual's projected eligibility. If an individual does not respond to this notice, NYSOH must issue an eligibility determination for the upcoming coverage year based on the information contained in the renewal notice.

On October 24, 2017, NYSOH issued an annual renewal notice in your case. That notice stated that based on information from federal and state sources, NYSOH could not determine whether or not you and your spouse would qualify for financial help with paying for your health coverage. You were asked to update the information in your account by December 15, 2017 or the coverage you were receiving might end.

Because there was no timely response to this notice, you and your spouse's eligibility for and enrollment in a qualified health plan was terminated effective December 31, 2017.

You testified that you did receive the notice from NYSOH telling you that you needed to update the information in your NYSOH account. You testified that you were travelling for work and that you did not timely read the renewal notice.

Therefore, the record reflects that NYSOH properly notified you of your annual renewal and that information in your NYSOH account needed to be updated to ensure your enrollment in your health plan and eligibility for financial assistance would continue.

The record shows that on January 3, 2018, you updated the information in your NYSOH account and submitted a request to enroll in a qualified health plan.

When an individual changes information in their application on or before the 15th of any month, NYSOH must make the redetermination that results from the change effective the first day of the following month. Additionally, the date on which a qualified health plan can take effect depends on the day a person selects the plan for enrollment. A plan that is selected from the first day to an including the fifteenth day of a month goes into effect on the first day of the following month.

Therefore, NYSOH's January 4, 2018 eligibility determination notice and enrollment confirmation notices are AFFIRMED because they properly began you and your spouse's enrollment in your qualified health plan on February 1, 2018.
