Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you were eligible to receive up to $358.00 per month in advance payments of the premium tax credit and cost-sharing reductions, effective March 1, 2018?

Procedural History

On January 30, 2018, you applied for health insurance and financial assistance through NYSOH.

That day, a preliminary eligibility determination was prepared stating that you were eligible to receive up to $358.00 in advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) and cost-sharing reductions, effective March 1, 2018.

Also on January 30, 2018, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed that preliminary eligibility determination notice insofar as you were not eligible for an increased amount of financial assistance.

On January 31, 2018, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice, based on your January 30, 2018 application, stating that you were eligible to receive up to $358.00 in APTC as well as cost-sharing reductions if you enroll in a silver level qualified health plan, effective March 1, 2018.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On March 28, 2018, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. During the hearing, you clarified that you were seeking to be found eligible for the Essential Plan. The record was developed during the hearing and held open up to April 12, 2018, to allow you time to submit supporting documents.

On March 29, 2018, NYSOH received your supporting documents by fax. The documents were incorporated into the record as Appellant's Exhibit #1 and the record was closed.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you expect to file your tax return for 2018 with a tax filing status of head of household. You will claim one dependent on that tax return.
- 2) The application that was submitted on January 30, 2018, states that you file your tax return with a tax filing status of head of household (with qualifying individual) and that you will claim your mother as a dependent on your tax return.
- 3) You are seeking insurance for yourself.
- 4) The application that was submitted on January 30, 2018 listed an annual household income of $26,208.00, consisting of $1,008.00 you earn every two weeks from your employment.
- 5) The preliminary eligibility determination prepared on January 30, 2018 states that your annual household income results in a FPL of 217.31%.
- 6) You provided documentation, that your monthly income for January 2018 was $2,005.71.
- 7) Your application states that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2018 tax return.
- 8) Your application states that you live in Queens County.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Advance Payments of Premium Tax Credit

APTC are generally available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a qualified health plan, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 26 CFR § 1.36B-2, 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

The maximum amount of APTC that can be authorized equals:

- 1) the cost of the health insurance premium for the taxpayer's coverage family in the second lowest cost silver plan offered through NY State of Health in the county where the taxpayer resides minus

- 2) the taxpayer's expected contribution amount

(see 26 USC § 36B, 26 CFR § 1.36B-3).

The taxpayer's expected contribution amount is the amount that the taxpayer is expected to spend on health insurance premiums. The expected contribution for 2018 is set by federal law at 2.01% to 9.56% of household income (26 USC § 36B(b)(3)(A), 26 CFR § 1.36B-3, IRS Rev. Proc. 2017-36).

In an analysis of APTC eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR §§ 155.300(a), 155.305(f)(1)(i)). On the date of your application, that was the 2017 FPL, which is $16,240.00 for a two-person household (82 Federal Register 8831).

For annual household income in the range of at least 150% but less than 200% of the 2017 FPL, the expected contribution is between 4.03% and 6.34% of the household income (26 CFR § 1.36B-3(g)(1), 45 CFR § 155.300(a), IRS Rev. Proc. 2017-36).

People who use the APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income (stated on NYSOH application) with their actual income (stated on their federal income tax return). Those who take less tax credit in advance than they claim on the tax return may get the rest of it as an income tax refund or have their tax bill reduced. Those who take more tax credit in advance than they can claim on their tax return will owe the difference as additional income taxes (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

Household Composition

For purposes of advance premium tax credit (APTC) and cost-sharing reductions (CSR), the household size equals the number of individuals for whom the taxpayer is allowed a deduction under 26 USC § 151 for the taxable year, which typically includes: (1) the taxpayer, (2) his or her spouse, and (3) any claimed dependents (26 USC § 36B(d)(1)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for up to $358.00 per month in APTC and cost-sharing reductions, effective March 1, 2018.

The application that was submitted on January 30, 2018 listed an annual household income of $26,208.00 consisting of $1,008.00 you earn every two weeks from your employment. The eligibility determination relied upon that information.

For purposes of APTC, the household size of a taxpayer equals the number of individuals for whom the taxpayer is allowed a deduction including the taxpayer and any claimed dependents. Your January 30, 2018 application states and you confirmed that you expect to file your tax return for 2018 with a tax filing status of head of household. You will claim one dependent on that tax return. Therefore, you are in a two-person household.

The preliminary eligibility determination prepared on January 30, 2018 states that your annual household income results in a FPL of 217.31%, as a result you were found eligible for $358.00 in APTC and cost-sharing reductions.

However, an annual income of $26,208.00 is 161.37% of the 2017 FPL for a two-person household.

Therefore, NYSOH improperly determined that you were in a one-person household for the purposes of determining your eligibility on January 30, 2018.

Since the January 31, 2018 eligibility determination notice was based on an incorrect household size, it is RESCINDED.

Your case is RETURNED to NYSOH to redetermine your eligibility for financial assistance as of January 30, 2018, using a two-person household, residing in Queens County, with an expected 2018 annual income of $26,208.00, and to notify you accordingly.
