Decision

Decision Date: May 30, 2018

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000028563

Issue

The issue presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health is:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that your family did not qualify to change health plans outside of the open enrollment period?

Procedural History

On October 17, 2017, NYSOH issued a renewal notice stating that your family was eligible to purchase a qualified health plan at full cost, effective January 1, 2018.

On December 5, 2017, a plan enrollment notice was issued, based on your December 4, 2017 plan selection, stating that your family was enrolled in a bronze-level qualified health plan, effective January 1, 2018.

On February 7, 2018, you attempted to enroll your family in a different qualified health plan, but was unable to do so.

Also on February 7, 2017, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed that eligibility determination insofar as your family was not eligible to change health plans outside of the open enrollment period.

On February 8, 2017, NYSOH issued a notice to confirm your appeal request from the previous day. That notice identified your family as the appellants and stated that the reason for your appeal was "Denial of Special Enrollment Period (SEP)."

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On May 24, 2018, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and closed at the end of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You testified that you are appealing the denial of a special enrollment period to change your family's health plan through NYSOH.
- 2) On February 7, 2018, you contacted NYSOH and attempted to change your family's qualified health plan.
- 3) You testified that, when you went online to enroll your family in a bronze-level qualified health plan in December 2017, you researched the health plans by utilizing the NYSOH's website to confirm that your family's primary physicians accepted that health plan. You further testified that you spoke to your family's primary physicians, who also stated that they accepted your family's bronze-level qualified health plan.
- 4) You further testified that you found out later that your providers accepted the platinum-level health plan but not the bronze-level health plan.
- 5) You testified that since the open enrollment period ended on January 31, 2018, there have been no other major changes to your household.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

De Novo Review

NYSOH Appeals Unit must review each appeal de novo and "consider all relevant facts and evidence adduced during the appeals process" (45 CFR § 155.535(f)). "De novo review means a review of an appeal without deference to prior decisions in the case" (45 CFR § 155.500).

Enrollment in a Qualified Health Plan

NYSOH must provide annual open enrollment periods during which time qualified individuals may enroll in a qualified health plan and enrollees may change qualified health plans (45 CFR § 155.410(a)(1)).

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

For the benefit year beginning on January 1, 2017, the annual open enrollment period began on November 1, 2016, and extended through January 31, 2017 (45 CFR § 155.410(e)(2)).

Special Enrollment Periods

After each open enrollment period ends, NYSOH provides special enrollment periods to qualified individuals. During a special enrollment period, a qualified individual may enroll in a qualified health plan, and an enrollee may change their enrollment to another plan. This is generally permitted when one of the following triggering events occur:

(4) The qualified individual's or his or her dependent's, enrollment or non-enrollment in a qualified health plan is unintentional, inadvertent, or erroneous and is the result of the error, misrepresentation, misconduct, or inaction of an officer, employee, or agent of NYSOH, its instrumentalities, or a non-NYSOH entity providing enrollment assistance or conducting enrollment activities.

(45 CFR § 155.420(d)(4)).

Generally, if a triggering life event occurs, the qualified individual or enrollee has 60 days from the date of a triggering event to select a qualified health plan (45 CFR § 155.420(c)(1)).

Legal Analysis

The issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that your family did not qualify to change health plans outside of the open enrollment period.

You testified that you are appealing the denial of a special enrollment period to change your family's health plan through NYSOH. However, the record does not contain a notice of eligibility determination or redetermination on the issue of special enrollment period.

Here, the lack of a notice of eligibility determination on the issue of special enrollment periods does not prevent the Appeals Unit from reaching the merits of the case or constitute material error. Under 45 CFR § 155.505(b), your family is as entitled to appeal NYSOH failure to timely issue a notice of eligibility determination as they are to appeal an adverse notice of eligibility determination. Your testimony, along with the February 8, 2018 appeal confirmation notice identifying your family as the appellants and the reason for your family's appeal as "Denial of Special Enrollment Period (SEP)," permits an inference that NYSOH did deny your family's special enrollment request.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY – Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

Since the Appeals Unit review of NYSOH determinations is performed on a de novo basis, no deference would have been granted to the eligibility determination notice had it been issued.

NYSOH provided an open enrollment period from November 1, 2017 until January 31, 2018, to select or change plan enrollment. On February 7, 2018, after the open enrollment period ended, you requested to change your family's qualified health plan. Also on February 7, 2018, a NYSOH representative verbally denied your family a special enrollment period to enroll in a different health plan outside of the open enrollment period.

Once the annual open enrollment period ends, a health plan enrollee must qualify for a special enrollment period to enroll in, or change to another health plan offered in NYSOH. To qualify for a special enrollment period, a person must experience a triggering event.

A special enrollment period can be granted if a qualified individual's enrollment or non-enrollment in a qualified health plan is unintentional, inadvertent, or erroneous and is the result of the error, misrepresentation, misconduct, or inaction of an officer, employee, or agent of NYSOH, its instrumentalities, or a non-NYSOH entity providing enrollment assistance or conducting enrollment activities

You testified that, when you went online to enroll your family in a bronze-level qualified health plan in December 2017, you researched the health plans by utilizing the NYSOH's website to confirm that your family's primary physicians accepted that health plan. You further testified that you spoke to your family's primary physicians, who also stated that they accepted your family's bronze-level qualified health plan. You found out later that your providers accepted the platinum-level health plan but not the bronze-level health plan.

Notwithstanding the fact that your family's physicians' failure to accept your bronze-level health plan is contractual in nature between you and the health plan and not within the jurisdiction of the NYSOH Appeals Unit, because you selected your health plan online without the assistance of an agent of NYSOH, it is concluded that your family's enrollment in your bronze-level qualified health plan is not the result of the error, or misrepresentation of an officer, employee, instrumentality or agent of NYSOH, in which a special enrollment period can be granted.

In addition, since the open enrollment period closed on January 31, 2018, there is nothing in the record to indicate that any other triggering events have occurred that would qualify your family for a special enrollment period.

Therefore, NYSOH properly denied your request for a special enrollment period for your family to change health plans and the February 7, 2018 denial of a special enrollment period is AFFIRMED.
