Decision

Decision Date: May 10, 2018

NY State of Health Account ID: [REDACTED]
Appeal Identification Number: AP000000029337

Issues

The issues presented for review by the Appeals Unit of NY State of Health are:

Did NY State of Health (NYSOH) properly determine that you were eligible to receive advance payments of the premium tax credit (APTC) of up to $379.00 per month?

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you were eligible for cost-sharing reductions?

Did NY State of Health properly determine that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan?

Procedural History

On February 9, 2018, NYSOH received your updated application for financial assistance for health insurance.

On February 10, 2018, NYSOH issued an eligibility determination notice stating that you were eligible to receive up to $379.00 in APTC as well as cost-sharing reductions, both effective March 1, 2018. The notice also stated that you were not eligible for the Essential Plan because your annual household income was over the allowable income limit for that program.

On February 26, 2018, you spoke to NYSOH's Account Review Unit and appealed that eligibility determination notice because you were not eligible for the Essential Plan.

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

On April 17, 2018, you had a telephone hearing with a Hearing Officer from NYSOH's Appeals Unit. The record was developed during the hearing and held open until May 2, 2018, to allow you time to submit income documents.

As of May 2, 2018, the Appeals Unit did not receive any documents from you by fax and none were viewable in your NYSOH account. Therefore, the record was closed that same day and this decision is based on the record as developed at the time of the hearing.

Findings of Fact

A review of the record supports the following findings of fact:

- 1) You are seeking health insurance for yourself.
- 2) You testified that you expect to file your 2018 tax return with a tax filing status of single, and you will not claim any dependents on that tax return.
- 3) The application that was submitted on February 9, 2018, listed annual household income of $24,336.00, consisting of income you earn from employment. You testified that this amount was correct.
- 4) Your application states that you will not be taking any deductions on your 2018 tax return.
- 5) Your application states that you live in [REDACTED], NY.
- 6) You testified that your net income minus your living expenses, including rent, utilities and food, should be used to determine your eligibility for financial assistance because it more accurately reflects your income.

Conflicting evidence, if any, was considered and found to be less credible than the evidence noted above.

Applicable Law and Regulations

Modified Adjusted Gross Income

NYSOH bases its eligibility determinations on modified adjusted gross income as defined in the federal tax code (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). The term "modified adjusted gross income" means adjusted gross income increased by (1) any income that was excluded under 26 USC § 911 for United States citizens or residents living abroad, (2) tax-exempt interest received or accrued, and (3)

If you need this information in a language other than English or you need assistance reading this notice, we can help you. Call 1-855-355-5777 (TTY - English: 1-800-662-1220) (TTY - Spanish: 1-877-662-4886).

Social Security benefits that were excluded from gross income under 26 USC § 86 (see 26 USC § 36B(d)(2)(B), 26 CFR § 1.36B-1(e)(2)).

“Adjusted gross income” means, in the case of an individual taxpayer, gross federal taxable income minus certain specific deductions, such as expenses reimbursed by an employer, losses from sale or exchange of property, losses from premature withdrawal of funds from time savings accounts, deductions attributable to royalties, and certain retirement savings (26 USC § 62(a)). Living expenses, such as rent and utilities are not an allowable deduction in computing adjusted gross income (id.).

Advance Payments of Premium Tax Credit

APTC are generally available to a person who is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan and (1) expects to have a household income between 138% and 400% of the applicable federal poverty level (FPL), (2) expects to file a tax return and claim a personal exemption deduction for a person who meets the eligibility requirements to enroll in a qualified health plan, and (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market (see 45 CFR § 155.305(f), 26 CFR § 1.36B-2, 42 CFR § 435.119(b), 42 CFR § 435.911(b)(1), 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4)).

The maximum amount of APTC that can be authorized equals:

- 1) the cost of the health insurance premium for the taxpayer's coverage family in the second lowest cost silver plan offered through NY State of Health in the county where the taxpayer resides minus

- 2) the taxpayer's expected contribution amount

(see 26 USC § 36B, 26 CFR § 1.36B-3).

The taxpayer's expected contribution amount is the amount that the taxpayer is expected to spend on health insurance premiums. The expected contribution for 2018 is set by federal law at 2.01% to 9.56% of household income (26 USC § 36B(b)(3)(A), 26 CFR § 1.36B-3, IRS Rev. Proc. 2017-36).

In an analysis of APTC eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR §§ 155.300(a), 155.305(f)(1)(i)). On the date of your application, that was the 2017 FPL, which is $12,060.00 for a one-person household (82 Federal Register 8831).

For annual household income in the range of at least 200% but less than 250% of the 2017 FPL, the expected contribution in 2018 is between 6.34% and 8.10 % of the household income (26 CFR § 1.36B-3(g)(1), 45 CFR § 155.300(a), IRS Rev. Proc. 2017-36).

People who use the APTC to help pay health insurance premiums must file a federal tax return and reconcile their expected income (stated on NYSOH application) with their actual income (stated on their federal income tax return). Those who take less tax credit in advance than they claim on the tax return may get the rest of it as an income tax refund or have their tax bill reduced. Those who take more tax credit in advance than they can claim on their tax return will owe the difference as additional income taxes (26 CFR § 1.36B-4).

Cost-Sharing Reductions

Cost-sharing reductions are available to a person who (1) is eligible to enroll in a qualified health plan through NYSOH, (2) meets the requirements to receive APTC, (3) is expected to have an annual household income that does not exceed 250% of the FPL for the first day of the open enrollment period of the benefit year for which coverage is requested, and (4) is enrolled in a silver-level qualified health plan (45 CFR § 155.300(a), 45 CFR § 155.305(g)(1)).

Essential Plan

NYSOH must generally determine an applicant eligible for the Essential Plan, a basic health plan, if the person is (1) a resident of New York State, (2) expects to have a household income between 138% and 200% of the applicable FPL or, in the case of an individual who is a lawfully present non-citizen who is ineligible for Medicaid or Child Health Plus as a result of their immigration status, has a household income that is between 0% and 200% of the FPL, (3) is not otherwise eligible for minimum essential coverage except through the individual market, (4) is 64 years old or younger, (5) is a citizen or a lawfully present non-citizen, and (6) is not incarcerated (see 42 CFR § 600.305, 42 CFR § 435.603(d)(4), 45 CFR § 155.305(e), NY Social Services Law § 369-gg(3), 42 USC § 18051).

In an analysis of Essential Plan eligibility, the determination is based on the FPL in effect on the first day of the benefit year for which coverage is requested (45 CFR § 155.300(a)). On the date of your application that was the 2017 FPL, which is $12,060.00 for a one-person household (82 Fed. Reg. 8831).

A person who has a household income that is at or below 150% of the FPL has a $0.00 premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, p. 21, as approved January 2016; see <https://www.medicaid.gov/basic-health-program/downloads/ny-blueprint.pdf>).

A person who has a household income greater than 150% of the FPL or below 200% of the FPL has a $20.00 per month premium contribution (New York's Basic Health Plan Blueprint, as approved January 2016).

The Essential Plan is considered minimum essential coverage; therefore, a person who is eligible for the Essential Plan is not eligible for any premium tax credit because they are eligible for minimum essential coverage through the individual market (see 26 CFR § 1.36B-2(c)(1), 26 USC § 5000A(f)(1)(C)).

Legal Analysis

The first issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined that you were eligible for up to $379.00 per month in APTC.

The application submitted on February 9, 2018 listed an annual household income of $24,336.00, and the eligibility determination relied upon that information.

During the hearing, you testified that the amount you provided in your application was correct. However, you testified that your net income minus your living expenses, such as rent, utilities and food, should be used in determining your eligibility for financial assistance because it more accurately reflects your household income.

Since the Internal Revenue Service rules do not allow living expenses such as the ones you asked to be deducted from the calculation of your adjusted gross income, they cannot be deducted when NYSOH computes your modified adjusted gross income for financial assistance. Furthermore, under current regulation NYSOH must use your gross income before taxes are deducted, not net income, when determining your household's modified adjusted gross income. Therefore, NYSOH correctly determined your household income to be $24,336.00.

You are in a one-person household for purposes of this analysis. This is because you expect to file your 2018 income tax return as single and will not claim any dependents on that tax return.

You reside in Kings County, where the second lowest cost silver plan available for an individual through NYSOH costs $509.30 per month.

An annual income of $24,336.00 is 201.79% of the 2017 FPL for a one-person household. At 201.79% of the FPL, the expected contribution to the cost of the health insurance premium in 2018 is 6.40% of income, or $129.85 per month.

The maximum amount of APTC that can be approved equals the cost of the second lowest cost silver plan available through NYSOH for an individual in your county ($509.30 per month) minus your expected contribution ($129.85 per month), which equals $379.45 per month. Therefore, rounding to the nearest dollar, NYSOH correctly determined you are eligible for up to $379.00 per month in APTC.

The second issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined you were eligible for cost-sharing reductions. Cost-sharing reductions are available to a person who has a household income no greater than 250% of the FPL. Since a household income of $24,336.00 is 201.79% of the applicable FPL, NYSOH correctly found you to be eligible for cost sharing reductions.

The third issue under review is whether NYSOH properly determined you were not eligible for the Essential Plan.

The Essential Plan is generally provided through NYSOH to individuals who meet the non-financial requirements and have a household modified adjusted gross income that is between 138% and 200% of the FPL for the applicable family size. On the date of your application, the relevant FPL was $12,060.00 for a one-person household. Since an annual household income of $24,336.00 is 201.79% of the 2017 FPL, NYSOH correctly found you were not eligible for the Essential Plan.

The Hearing Officer left the record open until May 2, 2018, for you to submit copies of your paystubs. No documentation was received by May 2, 2018. Since you did not submit the documentation, there is insufficient evidence in the record to disturb NYSOH's February 10, 2018 eligibility determination or return your case to NYSOH to redetermine your eligibility for financial assistance.

Therefore, the February 10, 2018 eligibility determination notice is AFFIRMED because it properly stated that, based on the information you provided, you were eligible for up to $379.00 per month in APTC and cost-sharing reductions, and not eligible for the Essential Plan.
